WELLSVILLE'S PROPOSED COMBINATION Post Office-City Hall is shown in this architect's sketch. A $250,000 bond issue will be on the Nov. 6 ballot for construction. The millage necessary to retire the bonds will be listed on the ballot but with the rental from the Post Office section this will be cut back to about nine-tenths of a mill, sponsors said. Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, who has prepared preliminary sketches, said earlier that the bond issue is adequate for completion, including construction, purchase of necessary properties and installation of a city jail. The Post Office would occupy about half of the available space and would be located on the ground floor with entrance at 5th and Main Sts. The city offices would be both on the first and second floors. The building would have approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space. Maintenance costs have been estimated to be the same or even less than for the present City Hall, which is to be razed. If approved, the city will designate the allotment of office space as only the Post Office section is pre-determined. Combination buildings have been constructed in other communities and City Council has been informed they are acceptable by postal authorities.

Bar Supports Buzzard For District Court

Democrats To Meet Monday To Make Party Nomination

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool was endorsed unanimously Tuesday afternoon by the Columbiana County Bar Association to fill the vacancy on the 7th District Court of Appeals created recently when Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren was named to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The bar association met in special session at Lisbon to consider the endorsement after receiving a letter from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, asking for its recommendations. He will make the appointment.

The bar association said it recommended Judge Buzzard "because of his wide legal experience, his fine legal mind and his judicial temperament."

Immediately after the meeting, Atty. Alfred Fitch of Salem, president, sent a telegram to Gov. DiSalle with the association's recommendation.

In a letter to Atty. Fitch as president, Gov. DiSalle said:

"As you are no doubt aware, Judge Griffith's appointment to the Supreme Court of Ohio has resulted in a vacancy in the 7th District Court of Appeals.

"We would appreciate receiving the recommendation of the Columbiana County Bar Association for consideration in filling this judicial vacancy."

Judge Buzzard is unopposed for election to a second term on the Common Pleas bench at the Nov. 6 general election. He also was renominated without opposition in the May primaries. A resident of St. Clair Ave., he was a member of the law firm of Vodrey, Buzzard & Shay before assuming the court post.

He is a Republican, which places him on the opposite side of the political fence from the governor, a Democrat.

The 13-county appellate district stretches from the Ohio River to Lake Erie. In addition to Columbiana, it includes Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Trumbull, Portage, Mahoning, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, Monroe and Noble Counties.

It was reported the governor asked recommendations of bar associations throughout the district to guide him in making the appointment.

Meanwhile, Don Gosney, county Democrat chairman, said the party executive committee will meet Monday night at 8 at the Democratic headquarters at Lisbon to make a nomination for the judgeship and forward it to Gov. DiSalle.

Skies Remain Cloudy For 5th Series Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Skies remained cloudy today for the fifth game of the World Series—already delayed one day by rain—between the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees.

Rain continued Tuesday night. The Weather Bureau forecast a possibility of additional light rain before game time and mostly cloudy this afternoon. However, weather conditions were much better than 24 hours ago.

Prolonged Congress Session

Senate Faces New House Blast In Prestige Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was ready today to fire another salvo at the Senate in the prestige fight that already has prolonged this session of Congress to a near-record length.

Vehicle for the newest blast is a Senate resolution that would provide emergency financing for the Agriculture Department at least until the next session and perhaps until next June.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma scheduled as today's first order of business a resolution relating to the Senate proposal.

Leader leaked the word that the House resolution would, in effect, tell the Senate in polite words to "go to blazes," by refusing to consider the Senate measure.

The position of House leaders is that the Senate resolution, passed last Thursday, amounted to that body originating an appropriation measure.

The House long has insisted that it alone can originate money bills, a position with which the Senate violently disagrees. The controversy already has reached the point that five annual appropriations bills for the fiscal year that

President Signs New Drug Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed a new drug bill which he said would help to provide safe and more effective drugs to the American people.

Standing by in his White House office were legislators who had helped push through the bill clamping tighter controls on production and sales of prescription drugs.

With them was Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, the Food and Drug Administration medical officer whose vigorous stand prevented the introduction of the dangerous drug thalidomide into the American market.

started more than three months ago still are bogged down on Capitol Hill.

There are no major obstacles to final action on pending money bills other than the agriculture measure. House action on one of them, a $5-billion public works measure, is slated for today.

Prelates Gather For Council

Prayer Offered Catholics Behind The Iron Curtain

VATICAN CITY (AP)—With Roman Catholic prelates from around the world gathering for the 21st ecumenical council, prayers were said today for Catholics beyond the Communist Iron Curtain.

At a solemn ceremony in the Basilica of St. Mary Major, Juan Cardinal Landazuri Ricketts, archbishop of Lima, Peru, said the "church of silence" would participate in the spiritual victory that would result from a successful council.

"The church of silence" is the name given by the Vatican to its faithful in Communist lands. Relations between the church and the Communist countries contributed a somber note on the eve of the council opening Thursday in St. Peter's Basilica.

There was an air of expectation and hope for the meeting that will bring together 2,600 cardinals, archbishops, bishops and other prelates. It is the church's first general conclave in 92 years.

But one great body of prelates was absent.

At least 170 bishops and archbishops in Red-ruled countries did not or could not make the trip to Rome. Only about 50 prelates and their aides had managed the trip.

Many refugees from communism attended the Mass and then preached a sermon that underlined the suffering of Christians through the ages and in Communist countries today.

He said the prayers today were for "mercy to sinners and persecutors, comfort and relief to those who live today most intensely the passion of Christ, light for the souls consecrated to God but impeded in following their ministry...

Employees Get Facts On New Knowles Plan

A proposal for co-operative purchase of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. by a businessman and its employees was explained to 272 workers Tuesday night at a mass meeting in the VFW Building on Minerva St.

The employees of the plant, which is scheduled to liquidate, were told of a proposal by Basil Mangano, president of Central Service, Inc., to purchase 50 per cent of the stock if the workers would put up funds for the other half.

Mangano first revealed his proposal yesterday, explaining it has been discussed in meetings with employees and management for nearly a week. His plan was responsible for attracting the biggest attendance at an employee meeting since the Knowles crisis developed, according to Larry Finlay, a member of the workers' committee attempting to save the plant.

Finlay said there apparently is no restriction in the constitution of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters preventing employees from buying stock in the company where they work.

He said there was such a restriction in the former IBOP constitution, but it was removed when the document was rewritten a few years ago at the Seattle convention. However, it forbids employees to agree to payroll deductions for stock purchases, he said.

Finlay told the group the Chamber of Commerce said it has sent letters to about 25 concerns that it thought might be interested in acquiring the plant, but not necessarily for continued operation as a dinnerware producer.

Ike, Stumping West States, Rips Kennedy

Political Conniving And Selfish Grab For Power Charged

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, stumping Western states for Republican candidates, has accused the Kennedy administration of political conniving and selfish grabs for power.

In a speech to almost 10,000 in the Denver Coliseum Tuesday night, Eisenhower said: "The Washington record of these past 20 months presents a picture of political conniving instead of statesmanship; of selfish grabs for power instead of respect for our concepts of balance in government; of arrogant assertion of Washington infallibility instead of readiness to trust in the wisdom of the American people."

He made no specific mention of President Kennedy or presidential aides but referred to persons "wandering aimlessly around their far frontier."

At one point Eisenhower interjected into his prepared speech: "I believe you must take an interest in politics or be ready to take orders. Take your choice."

Eisenhower's schedule called for a morning takeoff from Denver and stops at Omaha and Minneapolis, en route to Washington.

The former president began his speaking tour Monday, campaigning in California for his former vice president, Richard M. Nixon, who is running for governor against the Democratic incumbent, Edmund G. Brown.

At Boise, Idaho, Eisenhower also criticized his successors in Washington.

"I am sick and tired," he said, "of them telling the American people they did nothing for eight years (during Eisenhower's administration), that only if they will embrace the pie-in-the-sky platform of the so-called New Frontier they will be moving."

President Due At Aliquippa

Corak Says Visit To Be Made On Friday

President John F. Kennedy will visit Aliquippa Friday at 4:15 p.m. for 20 minutes, Eli Corak of Midland, Beaver County Democratic chairman, announced today.

The President will be at a large parking lot between the Misco Co. and the Mellon Bank. He will come from the Greater Pittsburgh Airport via the Parkway and South Heights to Aliquippa.

President Kennedy will be introduced by Richardson Dilworth, candidate for governor, who will be presented by Corak. The President will be accompanied by other state candidates and John Bailey, national Democratic chairman.

County officials will also be on the speakers platform at the parking lot. The Aliquippa and Hope-Well bands will provide music.

The President will return to Pittsburgh, where he is scheduled to speak at 9 p. m. at the Pitt Field House. He and his party will stay at the Penn - Sheraton Hotel Friday night.

Decision Awaited

U.S. Taxpayer May Share Bill To Free 1,113

Emergency Funds Eyed By Congress Prisoners Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American taxpayer apparently will have to pay a share of the bill if prisoners taken in the abortive Cuban invasion are released.

Members of Congress who have been kept up to date on the progress of negotiations between New York attorney James B. Donovan and Prime Minister Fidel Castro for an exchange of 1,113 men captured in the April 1961 fiasco indicated they expect emergency funds to be used.

There have been reports that the Central Intelligence Agency would come up with some of the money. But a Congress member in a position to know said he does not believe any final decision has been made.

Castro has asked for payment of $62 million for release of the prisoners. Donovan is attempting to work out an agreement for the furnishing of food and medicine to Cuba in return for their release.

Some members of Congress said they do not believe a private organization such as the Cuban Prisoners Committee could come close to raising any such sum as $62 million or could assemble food and medicine valued at that amount.

This leads them to the assumption that government supplies and money will be utilized to seal any barter bargain.

Castro postponed a scheduled meeting with Donovan Tuesday, informed sources reported. They said Castro put off the session so he could welcome Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos back from the United Nations.

Dorticos declined comment when asked about the prisoner situation before his departure from New York.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said no agreement had been reached, but negotiations were continuing.

A word of caution was injected by informed Washington sources into speculation that the prisoners' release was imminent.

These sources said there still were some possible barriers to an agreement and warned that premature disclosure of negotiation details could make those barriers more difficult to surmount.

Havana sources had said that only one final meeting between Donovan and Castro stood in the way of the prisoners' liberation. They said Donovan had arranged for the prisoners' air transportation to Miami.

There was every reason to believe Kennedy and other high officials hoped the negotiations would be successful. The White House in the past has looked with approval on efforts to free the prisoners.

But the Kennedy administration has taken extraordinary precautions to cloak any activities in which it has engaged in connection with the negotiations. Sources report the President never has discussed the matter with congressional leaders at frequent White House sessions.

With a few scattered exceptions, Senate and House members profess to be completely in the dark on what is going on.

U.S. Makes Decision

Ole Miss To Deal With 20 Involved In Disturbances

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The Justice Department plans to let the University of Mississippi deal with 20 students involved in the disturbances that greeted James H. Meredith's enrollment last week.

Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said documentary evidence about the students' role would be turned over to Ole Miss officials today. Earlier, they were given a list of students the Justice Department said took part in the riots that left two dead and scores injured.

The material prepared by the Justice Department for the university includes tapes, transcripts and photographs of the role students played in the campus disorders.

Katzenbach said putting disciplinary action in the hands of the university did not mean that no criminal charges would be filed against any students.

It was learned that photographs of students who jeered and yelled at Meredith outside the university cafeteria Monday night were being turned over to university officials.

In Washington, Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance said Negro troops were not used on patrols at first to avoid "unnecessary incidents." But he said they were now being used for "all normal functions in all operations."

The Army announced withdrawal of another 5,900 regular Army troops from the Mississippi-Tennessee area, bringing to 11,300 the number pulled out in two days. Some 10,000 troops remain in the immediate Oxford vicinity.

The Army also directed release from federal service of 30 per cent of 3,000 Mississippi National Guardsmen still on duty.

Meredith issued his first public statement on the events of the last 10 days. He criticized the Army for segregating Negro troops and took a verbal shot at an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People who had implied Meredith was picked by the NAACP for the integration attempt.

Calling the statement "an insult to my dignity," Meredith said it was untrue. The NAACP later issued a statement that Meredith had come to the group with his plans to apply and "was thus self selected."

Polish Train Mishap Kills 11, Hurts 50

Express Rams One Derailed, Blocking Line; Toll May Rise

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Warsaw-Vienna Express crashed into a derailed express from Budapest south of Warsaw Tuesday night. Transport Ministry officials said at least 11 persons were killed and more than 50 injured.

At least 16 coaches of the two fast international trains left the rails, blocking the Warsaw-Prague-Vienna main line.

The nationalities of the casualties could not be learned immediately. Officials said the number of dead and wounded might go higher.

Officials said 11 coaches of the Warsaw-bound express from Budapest left the track when the train hit some broken rails. Two of the coaches blocked the southbound track.

Moments later, the southbound express for Vienna hit the wreckage at 60 miles an hour.

Officials would not comment on the possibility that saboteurs or vandals had removed sections of the track on the northbound line. But the chief district prosecutor went from Lodz to the scene.

The wreck occurred at Moszczenica, about halfway between Warsaw and Katowice in Southern Poland.

Workmen spent the night cutting apart twisted steel coaches and moving injured passengers to hospitals in nearby towns. All ambulances in the district were pressed into service.

Police Locate More Clothes In Theft Case

City Man Scheduled For Arraignment In Looting Of Luggage

More clothing allegedly stolen from a hitch-hiking ex - service-man's luggage in East Liverpool Oct. 3 was recovered by police Tuesday night, building a case against a local man scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court next week on a grand larceny charge.

Clayton Hitchcock, 205 Drain St., is accused of stealing the clothing and other property from David C. Javens of Beaver, a serviceman who was hitch-hiking home after his discharge.

Javens signed the affidavit against Hitchcock, alleging the property was stolen while he was in a Dresden Ave. tavern with the local man and two Steubenville men who offered him a ride at Toronto.

The stolen property had a total value of $200, the affidavit alleges. The loot was a principally clothing, but also included a camera, an electric razor and a carton of cigarettes, police said.

Police said Hitchcock was picked up at Wellsville Monday night on Javens' affidavit. A camera allegedly stolen from Javens was in his possession, officers said.

Continuing the investigation Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman Jack Stroble found two sweaters, a jacket and three pair of trousers last night at Hitchcock's home, police said. Another sweater was found at the home of Hitchcock's brother in Beechwood, police said.

All the items were identified by the Beaver man as his property, police said. An electric razor and a carton of cigarettes also are missing, police said.

Javens said Hitchcock and two other men — later identified as Steubenville residents — picked

Illusion That Didn't Come Off

Even if Congress had cleaned up all unfinished business and adjourned last week-end, as had been expected, it would have been next year before its work could have been appraised.

As it is, an adjournment coming at the end of an off-to-Buffalo shuffle out of Washington, with something resembling an audience-milking curtain call thrown in for extra measure, blurs the legislative scene so badly it may never come into clear focus—not even for experts who spend lifetimes appraising congressional sessions.

This much can be said for the 87th Congress without waiting on further appraisal—that it deepened an impression which has been growing deeper with each session of Congress for many years.

STARTING as far back as the second Roosevelt administration in the '30s, Congress has been in the ascendancy and the prestige of the White House has been declining in matters of government policy.

The executive branch of the government is losing the lead in government initiative. It continues to propose policy, but it has had no power to impose policy since the early years of the New Deal.

No one has muttered about a threat of dictatorship in this country for years; the thought has gone out of the people's minds. There have been no complaints about executive "domination" of the legislative branch.

State Aid To Ohio Education

When the Ohio Board of Education gives unanimous approval to a recommendation for an "increase" in state aid to education, it is subject to such serious misunderstanding that the purpose of the recommendation backfires.

In truth, the Ohio Board of Education is trying to reverse a trend that has been giving Ohio pupils less state help. It is recommending a stabilization program, not an increase in state aid.

This is how it works:

From 1951 to 1960 the dollar increase in total state aid to local school districts was $105.8 million—a 117 per cent increase.

But if inflation is taken into account, the increase in dollars of constant value was $74.2 million—an 82 per cent increase.

The state aid contribution per pupil measured in constant dollars was $5.57—a 49 per cent increase.

THIS IS the heart of the matter. The only statistic that reveals anything is the one that narrows down state aid to each pupil. It is as if a cafeteria were feeding half again as many people as it formerly fed with only a one-third increase in supplies. Each consumer would be getting less to eat.

The significant fact is that total expenditures of local school districts and the state increased 157 per cent from 1951 to 1960 and the contribution per pupil measures in constant dollars (discounted for inflation) increased 40 per cent but that while this was happening state aid as a percentage of state and local expenditures decreased nearly 6 per cent. Local taxpayers were taking up the slack, not statewide taxpayers.

State aid has not been keeping pace with the increase in school age population.

LIKE ALL other public spending that must be estimated in terms of population, there needs to be a substantial increase each year just to maintain the same rate of support. This leaves no room for improvement. If the aid were continued at the same dol-

Honest Confession

This isn't as hot as something you might find in headlines, but for millions of young parents it could be the story of the year.

Dr. L. Emmett Holt Jr. has been directing a Bellevue Hospital study of premature babies fed in an unorthodox way—cold milk instead of warm milk. Don't let it start palpitations of the heart, but he concludes that parents are wasting time when they heat baby bottles.

He does not advise drastic changes. He merely suggests that observation shows a premature baby can handle cold milk as handily as warm milk. Since it takes from 200 to 400 hours a year to heat a bottle baby's feedings, parents would whoop with joy if this turned out to be true.

Pediatricians will be skittish about the finding, though Dr. Holt is prepared to refer them to work in this field that preceded his own study and came to the same conclusion. There is even evidence that cold formulas avert vomiting in touchy situations, which is something that all of us who gag at the taste and the smell of warm milk can understand.

No more bottles to heat until you can squirt the contents on your inner wrist without writhing in agony or leaping with shock;

No more messing around to plug in bottle warmers and find pans and water faucets and matches;

No more sweating out the yelps and screams of infants who want something to eat and want it now and what's that loon doing shaking out the stuff on his skin;

No more shushing, no more subterfuges to "kill the clock" while the watched bottle never boils, then gets hotter than a space capsule on re-entry in a few seconds;

No more sleight-of-hand performances transferring bottles from cold refrigerators to hot water and out again while holding a kicking bundle of joy;

No more anxiety about burning the tongues

The phrase "rubber stamp" is used now to denote a rubber stamp, not a state of mind.

Harry Truman made political capital out of abusing Congress and tried to create an illusion that he had triumphed over legislative opposition in his 1948 campaign.

Dwight Eisenhower tried to create an illusion that he welcomed a chance to cooperate with Congress and respected all senators and representatives for what they stood for even when he disliked them as individuals.

John Kennedy seems to have had it in mind at one time that he and his staff were masters of Congress, able to play it by telephonic impulse and lapel gripping as a virtuoso might play a musical instrument.

THE KENNEDY illusion isn't coming off either.

The young President is hitting the campaign glory trail thumping for more Democratic representatives and senators his administration can count on for support. But where would such Democrats be found?

The era when Americans elected to Congress were expected to do what the chief executive wanted them to do has been a sometime thing and now it's gone, perhaps forever. It's not going to be revived for the 88th Congress, because it was absent in the 87th Congress.

That much can be said for the 87th Congress—that much without fear of contradiction.

Partner In Health

The current observance of National Pharmacy Week focuses attention upon the some 20 Tri-State district drugstores where trained and licensed pharmacists dispense medication and professional services.

Reliability has been so long the chief characteristic of the pharmacist, the increasing complexity of drug knowledge, laws, medical techniques and ethics governing this vital service often is overlooked by the average customer.

The seeming miracles of medical research which have reduced pain, extended health and curbed disease have been brought to the public through the physician and pharmacist, a cooperative health team.

The intimate physician-pharmacist-patient relationship is the foundation of the health and safety programs of our country, and the heart of this relationship is the prescription order.

Apart from the 120,000 licensed pharmacists in community practice in the United States, there are many others engaged in hospitals, the drug industry and in research and sales positions.

Once a year is not too often to note the key role the pharmacist plays in our family and community, for his responsibility for life and death is borne hour by hour.

By Truman Twill

of tiny tots with torrid temperatures turned too high by trembling toddlers after too many tumblers of tequila;

No more inner misgivings about ruining the little one's health by giving it a blast of cold fluid when impatience conquered caution and the bottle was snatched off the burner or out of the warmer prematurely;

No more wondering if the "return of the swallows" could be blamed on failure to have the formula at the right temperature, instead of what just happened to feel OK on a wrist numbed by fatigue and made useless by uncertainty.

The picture is coming through like a summer sunrise, promising a better life for the parents of tomorrow. What if Dr. Spock and the rest of the specialists advise parents to go slow before taking emancipation for granted? Help is on the way.

That is more than could be said for parents who lived through the old arrangement, which included a feeding before bedtime, one in the middle of the night and another at the crack of dawn.

Want to know something, good, kindly Dr. Holt? Want to know something no one ever knew before?

Thousands of kids flourished on cold bottles—not as a steady diet but when force of circumstances made a cold bottle seem more sensible to their chivalrous fathers than a hot bottle. Not to mention tepid bottles. And bottles that never got warmer than they would be while held under an arm long enough to prepare a baby for feeding.

If this will help your scientific studies, Doc, you're welcome to the confession.

The popular gin-and-tonic drink originated in the heyday of the British Empire, when English soldiers in the jungles of Burma and India drank quinine tonic as an antidote to malaria. The tonies, seeing an opportunity to make life more pleasant, began adding shots of gin to their tonic—and soon the fad found its way back to England.

Guiana May Be Red China's 'Cuba'

By Victor Riesel

BROWNSVILLE, TEX.

With the Soviets neatly entrenched in the Caribbean can the Chinese Communists be far behind? No. They want some frontage on the lovely waters which stretch from the top of South America into the Gulf of Mexico. So the "Chi-coms" are preparing to build a Cuba of their own. They have their eyes on British Guiana. And they were told not too long ago they'd be welcome.

Victor Riesel

They got this word from an authoritative Guianian. She's the Communist wife of the avowedly Communist prime minister, Cheddi Jagan. The lady was in Peiping just a few weeks back.

After touring the mainland of China as the guest of the state for two weeks, she arrived in its capital to be greeted by a mass rally. There, beneath the red banners, she told of her devotion to Mao Tse-tung, denounced the United States, applauded speakers who shouted against "shameful... American imperialism" and welcomed Chi-com aid in "rebuilding" her country.

There was quite a turnout for her that day, Aug. 30. They were greeting a comrade—for is she not the general secretary of the Castro-style People's Progressive party which governs the internal affairs of British Guiana? There were almost as many people at the rally and along the streets, I'm told, as there are in little Guiana itself.

A BEACHHEAD in the Caribbean is quite an important "leap forward" for Mao's state. So word went out that Mrs. Jagan was to be treated royally. She was.

She was officially hailed by six special Chi-com organizations—some of them created especially for the infiltration of the lands which start rolling below the Rio Grande, a few feet from which I have just stood.

Sponsoring the rally of welcome for the politically powerful red lady were the China-Latin American Friendship Association, The People's Institute of Foreign Affairs, the China Peace Committee, the National Women's Federation of China, the All-China Federation of Trade Unions and the All-China Youth Federation.

For two weeks she had been unleashing anti-Western speeches. Now at the rally she really poured it on:

"The ruthlessness, of the colonial powers," said she as she warmed up to her oratorical bludgeoning of the United States and Britain, "the excessive plundering of national resources of colonies and inhuman disregard for the masses, have helped open the eyes of the exploited and strengthened their courage for the struggle."

This — from the wife of the prime minister who went to the White House asking for a loan of $28 million and then complained when he did not get it.

AMONG THOSE cheering her was the Cuban ambassador to Communist China, Oscar Pino-Santos. He cheered most loudly when Mrs. Jagan shouted that the "Cuban people need support in the struggle against recent provocations and to retain their hard won freedom."

And they all cheered when Chu Tu-nan, president of the China-Latin America Friendship Association, pledged the "support of the Chinese people for the British Guiana people in their struggle for national independence."

"U.S. imperialism," said he, "has played a shameful role in obstructing the independence of British Guiana. United States imperialism is very much afraid that the speedy attainment of independence by British Guiana will accelerate the development of the national and democratic movement in other Latin American countries."

After some days of secret conferences with Chi-com leaders, Mrs. Jagan flew to London to join her husband at the British Commonwealth conference. There both of them protested their lack of freedom.

FREEDOM for whom? The people of Guiana? Judge for yourself from a message sent to me by the editor of an anti-Communist newspaper in Georgetown, British Guiana, a newspaper which has criticized the Jagan association with the Communist international, ranging from Havana to Prague to Moscow and on to Peiping:

"We are a small newspaper," says G. E. Willock, editor of the Daily Chronicle, "fighting the Communist menace and have suffered as a result. Apart from an advertising tax that has been imposed on press and radio, which has resulted in a considerable reduction of revenue, the government (of prime minister and Mrs. Jagan) has singled us out for an economic squeeze by a ban on all government advertising and purchase of newspapers by departments and agencies."

"This is a matter which we would like to be ventilated in the American press. It is urgent."

That's right. Real freedom is the most urgent of matters. If the Jagans and their international allies win and they create a new Cuba we will not, this time, be able to say we were not aware of the policies of the people seizing power.

Governor's Immunity

By David Lawrence

Federal Court Power Held In Question

The Mississippi story — legally speaking — is just beginning to unfold one of its most important issues. Every state in the Union could be affected. For the U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit, has really raised in the case of Gov. Barnett of Mississippi the question of whether the governor of a state can be removed from office by court order on a contempt charge and subjected to a jail sentence, thus interfering with the exercise of his duties as the chief executive of a state.

For decades past the principle accepted by the federal and state courts has been that a president of the United States or the governor of a state can be removed from office only by the impeachment process. If the rule is reversed now by the Supreme Court of the United States — assuming that it will choose to hear the case at all — it would be possible for a private litigant hereafter to insist that a president or a governor appear in court and be subjected to cross examination at the command of the court.

Even congressional committees could then order a president to appear before them, and, if he refused to do so, a judicial summons could be issued demanding that the show cause why he shouldn't be held in contempt. If he were adjudged in contempt, he could then be imprisoned and thus removed from the office to which he had been elected.

IT SO HAPPENS that these very issues were discussed in July 1951 when a U. S. Senate committee, investigating gambling practices in Florida, issued a subpoena ordering Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida to appear and answer questions. Mr. Warren filed a comprehensive brief covering all the legal points, and, as a consequence, the Senate committee did not press for the enforcement of the subpoena.

Past rulings indicate that, while a governor may ignore a court order so far as his personal appearance in court is concerned, nobody else in the state government can do so. Hence, a court can enjoin one or more state officials from carrying out any illegal act even if it is ordered officially by a governor.

THE BRIEF points out that it doesn't make any difference whether the court order is served on a governor as an official or as an individual. It is contended that the court can issue such an order any time, but a governor or a president can ignore it without being compelled even to give any reason for his refusal.

When President Thomas Jefferson refused to respond to a federal court subpoena, Chief Justice Marshall of the Supreme Court of the United States upheld him, in an opinion written in behalf of the court, even though Mr. Jefferson gave no reason for his refusal to testify.

In other cases in state courts similar attempts by citizens to bring a governor personally into court under a court order to testify have been uniformly rebuffed. In one case — Thompson vs. German Valley Railroad — the highest court of the State of New Jersey said:

"Such order ought not to be made against the executive of the state, because it might bring the executive in conflict with the judiciary. If the executive thinks he ought to testify, in compliance with the opinion, he will do so without order. If he thinks it to be his official duty, in protecting the rights and dignity of his office, he will not comply, even if directed by an order. And, in his case, the court would hardly entertain proceedings to compel him by adjudging him in contempt. It will be presumed that the chief magistrate intends no contempt, but that his action is in accordance with his official duty."

THE BRIEF filed by Gov. Warren of Florida said:

"No committee of the Congress of the United States, nor the Congress itself, has the power to compel the governor of a sovereign state to answer a subpoena and go to Washington, D.C., to testify concerning matters within his knowledge as governor."

"The recognition of such power in Congress is to admit that the power lies in one department of the federal government to utterly destroy the entire concept of dual sovereignty...."

While the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans has deferred until Oct. 12 the hearing on whether the governor of Mississippi has "purged" himself of alleged contempt, it looks as if the Department of Justice itself may be backing away from the test. If the proceedings are dropped, the episode will nevertheless remain as a species of potential blackmail that could be used upon occasion to enable the U. S. Department of Justice to intimidate the governor of any state.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On Wednesday, Oct. 3, 1962, in the East Liverpool Review there appeared a letter praising the actions of Mississippi's Governor Ross Barnett and ex-general Edwin A. Walker concerning the "Meredith" case.

The letter, written by a Mr. Hugh Nile Jr. of Wellsville, went on to say that it's about time that Americans stood on their own two feet.

This person asked why is it we have federal troops enough to invade the sovereign state of Mississippi where, he says, there has been no breach of peace, when we don't have enough to liberate Cuba, protest Laos, nor to enforce the Monroe Doctrine.

Then he sarcastically states "Yet we do have enough (troops) to enforce the snoopers' vision of the sovereign state of Mississippi, by the 'nine old men' and the Kennedy Brothers."

The writer goes on to ask "How can this be justified?" This question is followed by the feeble statement that it has been said that if we liberate Cuba that the world will look upon us as a "big bully."

The letter closes with Nile Jr. remarking that the state of Mississippi has less than one half the population and only slightly more land area than that of Cuba.

Well, now that you've heard from Barnett's corner, it's only fair and wise to hear from across the ring, where James H. Meredith, Mississippi State's foremost student, and the rest of us Negroes stand.

I say that anyone who refers to rabble-rouser Walker as a general is living in a dream world. It seems to me that Walker is a has-been seeking to fatten his name by switching sides in the race issue.

Nile Jr. wants Americans to stand on their own two feet. Well, let him not forget that Korean War veteran Meredith is an American and close examination will show he's equipped with feet, instead of paws, as some ignorant backwoodsman might imagine.

As for the question of Cuba being liberated and Laos protected, it's like running across the street to stamp out a cigarette while your own house is burning down. We had better finish liberating our own Negro citizens and protect their rights before trying to aid others.

whether the court order is served on a governor as an official or as an individual. It is contended that the court can issue such an order any time, but a governor or a president can ignore it without being compelled even to give any reason for his refusal.

Letters To The Editor

By referring to the Supreme Court rulings as "nine old men" snooping into the affairs of Mississippi, it seems Mr. Nile is attempting to combine an obnoxious mixture of disrespect for our law with a disrespect for his elders.

The recent actions taken by President John F. Kennedy following the lead of our Supreme Court are the biggest strides for real justice for all our people ever taken by an administration since Lincoln.

And as for Mr. Nile's statement concerning the world looking on us as a "big bully" if we liberate Cuba, may I say that the world look on us now as a "big bully" for NOT liberating our Negroes.

I believe that the schooling we Americans receive on the American Negro's history, lacks a true picture and is the cause for much of the kind of feelings that Nile expresses.

Public opinion has been falsely shaped down through the years about the Negro, and after having these distortions pounded into our heads for generations, even some Negroes tend to go along with this misconception.

The sooner we realize that the color of skin has nothing to do with what capabilities lie under that skin, the better off we all will be.

In closing, I'd like to say that Hugh Nile Jr.'s one correct comment, that the state of Mississippi has less than half the population and only slightly more land area than that of Cuba, proves one thing: he should stick to geography and leave civil rights to someone who knows what he's talking about.

U.S. Accuses 3 Oil Firms

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department, in a civil anti-trust suit, has accused three of the nation's largest oil companies of agreeing not to compete with each other.

A department spokesman says the U.S. District Court is being asked in the action to stop Richfield, Sinclair and Cities Service from allocating markets.

The suit accuses Cities Service and Sinclair of agreeing not to compete with Richfield or each other in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona.

In turn, it was alleged, Richfield agreed not to compete in the rest of the country with the other two companies.

The suit also asks the court to direct Cities Service and Sinclair to sell their stock holdings in Richfield, the spokesman said, and asks directors in Cities Service and Sinclair be required to resign from Richfield's board of directors.

Also named in the suit were several directors of the three firms and two other companies, Empire Gas and Fuel Co. of New York, a Cities Service subsidiary, and Sinclair Delaware Corp. of New York, a subsidiary of Sinclair.

Blonde Continues Her Testimony In Robbery-Kidnap

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old platinum blonde who admits she "hustled" for a living continues her testimony today in the trial of three men charged with the $42,000 kidnap-robbery of Mr. and Mrs. John Mosler.

Mosler is president of the Hosler Safe Co., Hamilton, Ohio.

The witness said in beginning her testimony Tuesday that she overheard plans for the crime.

She said she uses both her maiden name, Immogene Ruh, and the name of Mrs. David M. Levy. She said she had been "going steady" with Levy, 35, one of the defendants, although married to Albert Young Brown, who she said is now in prison.

Asked by Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton B. Roberts what she did for a living, Miss Ruh said: "I hustled."

She said she had given birth to a girl in January and named Levy as the child's father. Several days before she entered the hospital for the birth, Miss Ruh testified, she overheard Levy talking about the planned robbery with Patrick Malone, John Richila and a man she knew only as "Abe."

Drilling Continues On Layer Of Salt

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Geologists, supported by $125,000 in federal funds from the Area Redevelopment Administration, are continuing to drill and test a layer of salt discovered in Monroe County last week.

If salt is found in abundance, Monroe and adjoining Washington County hope to lure chemical plants which need salt to the area.

A test drill in Wittens, a potential industrial site area between here and Marietta, hit the salt-bearing strata. Now the testing project there, headed by Richard Teichman Jr., is aimed at finding how extensive the deposits are.

Teichman is chief geologist for the Pennsylvania Railroad, which owns the property. Wittens is one of several Ohio River sites the railroad and Hanna Coal Co. of Cleveland bought five years ago.

$20 Million Seen In First 2 Months From Excise Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Excise taxes, which come out of the pockets of Ohio's beer and wine users, cigarette smokers and horse race bettors, brought the state more than $20 million in the first two months of this book-keeping year.

The State Tax Department says July and August collections amounted to $20,306,938—or $85,074 more than a year ago.

Since 1960, gross excise tax collections in Ohio have amounted to around $100 million annually. In the fiscal year that ended last June 30, excise tax collections amounted to $103,149,522.

Most of the money goes to the state's general fund, although some of an increase in the tax on cigarettes was earmarked for capital improvements.

Editor-Publisher Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—James L. Lenahan, 55, veteran editor, publisher and author, died Monday. He headed the Lenahan Feature Service and was associated with several other firms. Lenahan, who was head of the McClure Newspaper Syndicate from 1946 to 1952, was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Satellite Relays Excellent Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Explorer 14 satellite launched last week to measure space radiation is relaying excellent data, the space agency reports.

As it whirls in a wide-sweeping orbit ranging from 175 to 61,000 miles above the earth, the 89-pound package is counting electrons, protons, cosmic rays and other energetic particles streaming across space from the sun.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it may take several months to correlate the radio signals into workable scientific information. The satellite was built to learn how solar radiation affects weather, communications and other events on earth and what danger it poses to future manned space travel.

Miss Norma McCauley, K. A. Beck Exchange Vows

Miss Norma Sue McCauley wore a full-length gown of Florentine lace when she became the bride of Kenneth A. Beck last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the First Methodist Church of Wellsville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair McCauley, 612 Commerce St., Wellsville, and her husband's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Arden Beck of Main St., all of Wellsville.

Rev. Beck officiated for his son's double-ring ceremony before an altar background of palms, mums and candelabra. Mrs. Ernest Lowe played a half-hour recital of wedding music. Her husband sang "Ruth," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, scalloped Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a satin rosette, highlighted with rhinestones. She carried a white lace-topped Bible holding an arrangement of white orchids, lily-of-the-valley and satin streamers.

Miss Cassie Mason was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Arretta Beck, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Patricia Montgomery. Their chiffon gowns, of aqua, blue and pink, respectively, were fashioned with scoop necklines and bouffant skirts. Their matching headpieces held theater veils. They carried Colonial bouquets of carnations.

Karen Beck, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl and carried a basket of carnations and daisies. Ronnie McCauley, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. James Means was best man. Ushers were Alan McCauley, brother of the bride, and Mac Beckel.

The mother of the bride chose a beige Paisley print and the bridegroom's mother wore a sheath of beige lace. Matching accessories and pink carnation corsages complemented their attire.

sive 500 went to Mrs. Arthur Hull, Mrs. Clifford Smith, Miss Ruth Williams and Mrs. Willard Enoch, travel.

Next meeting is Oct. 22 with Mrs. Norman Horgor of the Westfield Rd.

The meeting of the Builders Class of the Second Church of Christ scheduled for tonight has been canceled and a Halloween party will be held Oct. 29 in the social rooms.

The meeting of the Sara Watson Class of the Calvary Methodist Church, which was scheduled Friday night in the social rooms, has been postponed with the place and date to be announced later.

A costume party featured the meeting of the Mary Esther Circle of the WSCS of the Boyce Methodist Church Monday night with Mrs. Philip Creaturo of Ohio Ave.

Proceeds from sale of the box lunches will go to the project fund. Mrs. Larry Armstrong, president, conducted business. Mrs. Alfred Cochran read the minutes and Miss Jean Krafft the financial report.

A contribution of $13 was given to the general society. Mrs. Chester Channels reported on the recent district meeting at Toronto. Visitation reports were six sick and three shut-ins.

Mrs. Carl Timmons conducted devotions, reading Scripture from John 5:19, and an article, "Rich Man, Poor Man, Beggar Man or Thief." She closed with a meditation from "The Upper Room."

Next meeting is Nov. 12 with Mrs. Armstrong of Lisbon. The fund-raising project will be "a penny a meal." A taffy pull will be featured.

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Harold Ginder at the meeting of the Katherine Von Bora Circle of United Lutheran Church Women Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Mrs. William Anthony, program

MRS. K. A. BECK
Wellsville Girl Is Bride.

A reception for 150 followed in the social rooms. The buffet table was centered with a miniature cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. A floral arrangement, white bells and lighted tapers completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Sarah Leiper, Mrs. Betty Havelock, Mrs. Louise Barcus, Mrs. Galen Lewis and Mrs. H. E. Patterson. Miss Patricia Newton presided at the guest register.

Out-of-town guests were from Akron, Parkersburg, Carrollton, Congo and East Liverpool.

A dinner for the bridal party and immediate families was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The newlyweds are graduates of Wellsville High School, the bride in 1962 and her husband in 1960. He is also a graduate of the Pittsburgh Electronics School.

They are residing in Cumberland, Md., where the bridegroom is employed at the Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory.

chairman, used the topic, "The Church's Mission to Persons of Special Need." She was assisted by Mrs. Royd Hodge, Mrs. Henry Schneidmiller, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. E. M. Troutman, Mrs. Bernard Reber and Mrs. Ginder.

Mrs. Edward Seiferth, circle leader, presided for business. The group was reminded of World Community Day observance Nov. 2 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. It is sponsored by United Church Women of East Liverpool, who are gathering used clothing and carpet remnants as a project.

Mrs. Kenneth Scott, delegate, and Mrs. Alvin Arner and Mrs. George Spratley will attend the ULCW convention Tuesday and Wednesday at Toledo.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. L. Cowan and Mrs.

Schneidmiller. A Halloween theme predominated in the buffet table arrangements.

The annual business meeting of the combined circles is Nov. 5.

Mrs. Elsie Grafton, a new member, won travel award at 500 when the Monday Night Club met with Mrs. Sally Beadle of Morton St.

Other prizes went to Mrs. Mary Pysniak, Mrs. Sondra White and Mrs. Dorothy Young. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Memorial Book Presented By Midland Post Auxiliary

The auxiliary of Midland American Legion Post 481 has presented a book to the Midland Carnegie Library in memory of Mrs. Hazel Griffith, who was president of the unit in 1956.

Announcement of the presentation was made by Mrs. Charles Adkins, a past president, at a meeting of the unit Monday evening in the Legion Home.

Mrs. Adkins said that since the late Mrs. Griffith was noted for her many years as a cook in the Midland area, the unit selected a "Betty Crocker Junior Cook Book" for the gift.

During business conducted by Mrs. Lester Barr, president, Mrs. Hilda Jones was named Americanism chairman.

Members are preparing stamped Christmas cards for the Deshon Veterans' Hospital in Butler for the patients' use at Christmas time.

Plans were outlined for a public card party Nov. 9 at 8 o'clock in the Legion Home. Mrs. John Waddingham is chairman of the fund-raising project.

A party will be held for Mrs. Mary Labon of New Brighton, new president of the Tri-State County Council, Oct. 19 at the New Brighton Legion Home and the local unit will present her a gift.

Two applications for new members were read. Mrs. Stanley Szwed, membership chairman, gave a report.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. William Riddle and Mrs. William Coble. Mrs. Mary Rodfong won a prize.

Next meeting is Nov. 12.

Club At Newell Receives 5 Membership Applications

Five applications for membership were received when the Newell Women's Club met Monday night in the American Legion home. Thirty-two attended and a songfest followed business.

Lisbon School To Be Cleared Of Termites

LISBON — A $2,810 contract to rid areas of David Anderson High School of termites was authorized by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night.

The Diehl Exterminating Co. of Salem was granted the contract to clear the building of the insects with a five-year guarantee.

Plummer E. Diehl of the firm said the gymnasium, some floors and several door arches were infested. A number of years ago termites were found in the former home economic rooms and door jams.

The board authorized a salary increase for Raymond Glausser, custodian, to $3,870 a year, effective Sept. 1. The increase was authorized after it was learned a new custodian hired this year was paid more than Glausser who has three years experience.

Policy was discussed on early admittance of underage children if they passed psychologist's tests. Supt. Oliver Payne was authorized to study the situation with principals and psychologist, and make recommendations.

The board directed that X-rays or Mantoux tests for teachers must be done between Aug. 1 and Sept. 15 of even years. It re-invested $90,000 in building funds, and purchased Croft Educational Service at $76 per year at the request of Supt. Payne.

Supt. Payne reported on the improvements at McKinley and Lincoln schools, including the grounds and fences. He said new school equipment which has arrived includes a mowing tractor, mimeograph machine, tape recorders for the language lab at the high school, part of the new furniture for the administration building, water cooler for high school and two fire extinguishers.

Mrs. Lynne Woods, speech and hearing therapist, will devote the major portion of two half days to grading and assisting Miss Dorothy Cameron and Mrs. Genevieve Sexton with their over-load of work.

About 135 attended the fall meeting of the Ohio Valley and Youngstown Regions of Episcopal Church Women Tuesday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. An industrial film was screened.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury, rector, introduced the film, "This Is God's World." Group discussions on the film were led by Mrs. Edward B. Purcell of the Youngstown Region, and Mrs. Harold Downard, Mrs. Earl Salisbury, Mrs. W. E. Dunlap Jr., Mrs. Robert Burch, Mrs. Frank Mitcheson and Mrs. D. Ross Salisbury of the Ohio Valley Region.

The theme for the day was "What Is Our Ministry?" Holy Communion was celebrated by Rev. Salisbury and the Rev. David Humphrey of St. Paul's in Steubenville. William Massey was acolyte.

Mrs. Edward P. Woodward was installed as president of the Youngstown Region by Rev. Salisbury. She was presented by Miss Blodwyn Williams of Warren.

Theft

him up at Toronto Oct. 3 while he was hitch-hiking home after two years' military service. He said the trio halted at a Dresden Ave. tavern briefly, leaving the ex-serviceman's luggage in the car.

Javens told police the stop at the tavern was the only time his luggage was out of his sight in his trip home from the military base.

Leaving the tavern, the trio hauled him to E. 4th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. to continue his hitch-hiking trip home, Javens said. He told police he did not discover the theft from his luggage until he arrived home.

He first reported the theft to Steubenville and Toronto police, but was referred to East Liverpool authorities because the property apparently disappeared here, police said.

Police said the car in which Javens was given a ride evidently belonged to one of the two Steubenville men. Capt. Pyle said it is not known definitely if the two Steubenville men were involved in the case.

He said Hitchcock claims he purchased the property from one of the Steubenville men for $25 and obtained a receipt, but he has been unable to produce the receipt.

When Javens came to the East Liverpool department, questioning revealed that he recalled Hitchcock's name as one of the three men in the car in which he had ridden. He then swore out a warrant accusing Hitchcock of the theft.

Hitchcock was taken before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday on the grand larceny charge. He requested a continuance to obtain counsel, so the court set his preliminary hearing for next Tuesday morning and fixed bond at $1,000.

shop which included united thank-offering and supply work.

Named to the finance committee were Mrs. John Kirk of Steubenville, Mrs. George Pepper of Youngstown, Mrs. Clifford Hindley of East Liverpool and Miss Williams of Warren.

The Rev. R. O. Petersen gave the benediction. The Rev. E. F. Edmunds of St. Luke's Church in Niles was visiting clergyman.

Mrs. Charles Glover and Mrs. Robert Birbeck were in charge of registration.

The spring meeting of the Ohio Valley Region will be at the Ascension Church of Wellsville.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Area Cooper Dies

Isaac Samuel Beardmore, 93, of Columbiana, a former Newell cooper, died Tuesday at 5:15 p. m. in Salem City Hospital after a day's illness.

A former East Liverpool resident, he resided with a daughter, Mrs. Jesse Terrence, 522 W. Park Ave., Columbiana.

Formerly employed as a barrel maker at the Lawrence Cooperage Co. in Newell, he moved to Columbiana 15 years ago from East Liverpool.

He was born Nov. 27, 1868, in Monroe County to Thomas Beardmore and Martha Ann Hartshorn Beardmore.

Mr. Beardmore was a member of the Second Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool. His first wife, Lula Mae Brown, died in 1901, and his second, Bertha McDaniel, in 1931.

Besides the daughter, he leaves a sister, Mrs. John Windland of Bremen, a grandchild, and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the Seederly - Beilhart Funeral Home in Columbiana by the Rev. Harry Scheidemann of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbiana. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery, East Liverpool.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

Mrs. W. E. Williams

Mrs. Nell F. Williams, 64, of Bolivar, wife of William E. Williams, a native of Madison Township, died suddenly apparently of a heart attack Monday morning at her home.

She was born in Springfield Oct. 10, 1898. Her husband was a farmer in the Madison Township area until 25 years ago, when he moved to Bolivar. Mrs. Williams was a member of the Church of Christ and the Daughters of Civil War Veterans, both of Lima, Daughters of the American Revolution of Bolivar, and the Lady Elks and the Women of the Moose, both of Dayton. They were married March 25, 1951, in Columbus.

Besides her husband, she leaves two step-daughters, Mrs. Thomas Smith of Alliance and Mrs. Raymond Plate of Wellsville R. D. 1; three step-sons, Roy Williams of Louisville, Ohio, and Clarence Williams and George Williams, both of Wellsville R. D. 1, and 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Lebold Funeral Home in Bolivar by the Rev. Karl Greishaber, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bolivar. Burial will be in the Memorial Park in Lima Friday afternoon.

Friends may call this afternoon and tonight from 7 to 9 at the funeral home, where the DAR will hold special services at 8.

Mrs. Helen Long

Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Long, 71, widow of James John Long, died this morning at 12:15 at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Hamilton, 812 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, with whom she resided.

Mrs. Long, who had been in failing health several months, was born in Pittsburgh Sept. 26, 1891, to William Welsh and Mary Gleason Welsh, and resided in Wellsville for 32 years. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. Her husband died March 28.

She leaves another daughter, Mrs. Helen Eaton of Beaver Falls and 11 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the church by Fr. Gerald X. Curran. Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call Thursday evening and Friday afternoon and evening at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville, where Fr. Curran will conduct prayer service Friday at 8 p. m.

Clarence Hanna

Clarence F. Hanna, 808 Lincoln Ave., a potter, died this morning at 9:05 at City Hospital following a lingering illness. He was 61.

He was born in Marietta to Harvey Hanna and Mary Kleeschulte Hanna and resided in this area virtually his life time, including Dixonville area. He was employed last at the Hall China Co. He was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church and the East Liverpool Eagles Lodge. He served in the Navy after 1919.

He leaves his widow Mrs. Beatrice Hanna at home; a son, Francis Hanna, and two brothers, Paul Hanna and George Hanna, all of East Liverpool; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Needles of Sandusky and Mrs. Olive Burson of East Liverpool, and two grandchildren. The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

In 1904 America could boast of some 15,000 recreational boats. By 1947 the number had jumped to an estimated 2,440,000 and by 1961, to 7,175,000.

Midland Band Booster Club Sets Member Drive Monday

Further plans for the annual membership drive that will get under way Monday were outlined at a meeting of the Midland Band Boosters Club Tuesday evening in the music forum of Midland High School. Mrs. William Petrosky, president, presided.

The drive is expected to be completed in about a month. Band members will be given membership tickets to take home to their parents and the house-to-house solicitation will begin shortly afterward.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale Nov. 13. The place will be announced later. Another fund-raising project was set for Nov. 15.

Dominic DiVecchio, band director, explained a "field trip" which would give the band members an opportunity to attend a concert in Pittsburgh in the future. The club allowed $250 toward the move.

DiVecchio asked chaperones at future games to try and arrive early to see that uniforms are in order and ready for use.

A letter of thanks was read from Robert C. Jones, director of the Beaver High School Band, for the group's hospitality and refreshments furnished his band when it played at Midland several weeks ago.

Future meetings will begin at 7 p. m. instead of 7:30. The next meeting is Nov. 13.

East End Driver Faces 2 Counts In Car Purchase

An East End man was haled before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today on two charges alleging he purchased an auto in July but did not obtain a title in his own name or transfer the license plates from a car he formerly owned.

William Ward, 1707 Alpha St., was arrested Tuesday at 2:49 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith on a charge of using fictitious license plates, officers said. The charge of failure to obtain a title in his own name was filed this morning by Howard Lisk, district examiner for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

After considerable discussion and testimony, Judge Chertoff convicted Ward of the charge of failure to obtain a title. Ward pleaded guilty to the allegation he failed to transfer the plates.

The judge continued the case until Oct. 17 for sentencing and told Ward to obtain a proper title and license tags in the meantime. Ward told the judge he is an unemployed potter and his wife is expecting.

If Ward's present car had been involved in a traffic crash, the former owner might have been held responsible under the Ohio financial responsibility law, as the auto still was in his name legally, Lisk said as part of his testimony.

Party Scheduled By Chester Cubs

Plans for a Halloween party Monday at the Methodist Church Durbin Memorial Center was made at a meeting of Chester Cub Pack 30 Monday night at the center. Both cubs and parents are to be masked for the event.

Enrolled as members were Danny Fink, Jimmy Collins, Mark Hartenbach, Rickie Mountjoy, Dave Smith and Sam Wood.

Mrs. Robert Reed and Mrs. Lloyd Mansfield were named den mothers.

Following the meeting, Cubs and den mothers visited the Chester fire station and toured the city on a fire truck. Robert Reed, cubmaster, was in charge.

Next meeting is Nov. 12.

20 At Joint Meeting Of Methodist Groups

Twenty attended a combined meeting of the Methodist Men and the WSCS Monday night at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church.

A coverdish dinner was served. The groups held separate business meetings. Russell Baughman heads the men's group and Mrs. Natalie Lewis is president of the WSCS.

Discussions were held on sponsoring dinners and it was decided the women will assume the responsibilities. Other fund-raising projects were discussed.

The men will meet again Nov. 12.

Kiwanians At Chester Tour National's Plant

Fifteen members of the Chester Kiwanis Club toured the National Church Supply Co.'s new plant on Route 30 Tuesday night following a dinner meeting at the City Hall auditorium.

Lewis Alder, company co-ordinator, conducted the tour and was a guest at the meeting.

Eugene Seeley was re-elected secretary - treasurer of the club at a meeting of the Board of Directors. Twenty-one attended the dinner meeting. Alvin Fineman was program chairman. Paul Finley, president, was in charge.

Youth To Get Hearing In Car Disappearance

A 16-year-old Chester boy is being held in Juvenile Detention quarters in New Cumberland awaiting a hearing before Juvenile Officer John Grossi in connection with driving away an auto without the owner's permission.

The youth was apprehended by East Liverpool police Monday night while driving a sedan owned by Howard Ferguson, 107 Carolina Ave., Chester.

Grossi said the youth will receive a hearing sometime this week and an investigation is under way.

Trial Concluded With Settlement

A settlement was reached before closing arguments were presented in a $20,000 damage suit Tuesday morning in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Jane A. Harless of Weirton, plaintiff, and Larry Brozier of Avella, former Weirton florist, settled out-of-court before further testimony was offered.

The trial opened Monday and was being heard by a 12-member petit jury. Mrs. Harless sought damages in contending wrongful death of her husband, Everett C. Harless, who died after a fall down stairs Nov. 8 in an apartment building owned by Brozier.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said petit jurors have been excused until Oct. 18 at 9:30 a. m.

Judge Pryor will hear general court matters on "motion day" Thursday. Scheduled for arraignment are Patsy Marino Jr., indicted on six counts of breaking and entering, and Burley Roberts of Weirton, facing a third charge of driving while intoxicated.

The Courthouse will be closed Friday for the Columbus Day holiday.

City Dentist Speaks At Pittsburgh Session

Dr. Reid J. Calcott of East Liverpool presented a talk on dental disorders originating in the joint which serves as a hinge for the lower jaw at a meeting Tuesday of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh.

In his talk, he pointed out many persons treated for headaches, earaches, facial neuralgias and other similar pains may be suffering from the ailment originating in the temporomandibular joint or "TMJ."

Common symptoms, Dr. Calcott said, are pains in the region of the joint and ear, difficulty in opening or closing the mouth, facial pain from moving the lower jaw and recurring headaches.

$29,500 Seen In Salvation Army's Drive

Results of the building fund campaign of the Salvation Army and what action can be taken to purchase the former American Legion Post 4 Home were discussed at a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army Monday at the citadel. Harold Allison, chairman, presided.

It was reported the fund stands at $29,500 in cash and pledges, with only two divisions being completed.

Industries have not allowed in-plant solicitation but a few have responded through a letter appeal, Allison remarked.

The board decided that if all division work can be completed it would be possible to occupy the building, even if a small mortgage has to be carried, Allison said. Every effort is being made to get enough for purchase of the building and use it as soon as possible.

The resignation of Alton Weber as treasurer was accepted and School Supt. Ralph Betts was elected to the post.

Certificates of appreciation were given various division heads in the drive, including Ed Adkins, chairman; Supt. Betts, schools; Earl Greenawalt, professional; Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, special gifts; Richard Martin, commercial; Roland Kaufman, public and civic, and George Mueller, chain stores.

Fourteen attended the meeting. Next session was tentatively set for Monday, Allison said.

300 Hear Moore In Weirton Rally

WEIRTON — A crowd of 300 heard a major political address Tuesday night by Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. of Glen Dale, Republican candidate for 1st District congressman in the Nov. 6 general election.

Moore, engaged in a red-hot political scrap for the congressional seat in the 1st District with Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey of Clarksburg, Democrat, spoke at a party rally in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Rep. Moore claimed he had accepted offers from three television stations in the 1st District for "free time" to debate with Rep. Bailey, but Bailey had rejected the challenges.

Rep. Moore is the only Republican member of West Virginia's congressional delegation.

John A. Jones, director of public relations at Weirton Steel Co., served as toastmaster. Local candidates were introduced. Rep. Moore asked for their support.

'Honest' Customer's Conscience Costs $2

The cash register at Jerry's Auto Store on Washington St. shows a $2 entry — but no sale. Pete Price, manager, said Tuesday's mail brought an unsigned letter with the $2, apparently as "conscience" money.

The writer said that "sometime ago in your store I was testing a clothes basket for strength and the handle cracked. At the time I didn't think much of it but since then the Lord keeps bringing it to my attention and I'm sure He'd have me pay for it. Therefore, I enclose two dollars." It was signed, "sincerely, a patron."

South Side PTA Holds Panel Discussion On Merger Plan

A panel discussion on whether the South Side School jointure should be a merged district was held at a meeting of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at the elementary building near Hookstown.

Panel members were Mrs. Dorthea Brooks of the Hookstown board; Dave McKenzie, vice president of the joint board; George White of the Shippingport board, and Mrs. Jim Anderson of the Hookstown board. William Faulk of the Hanover board was moderator.

The Rev. H. H. Bish of the Bethel Methodist Church was speaker. Mrs. Franklin Walker, president, presided. Mrs. Mont McCoy, chaplain, had devotions.

A discussion was held on paid assemblies and it was decided the PTA will sponsor them.

A grievance committee, made up of two members of the PTA executive committee and three members of the PTA, was appointed to present to the joint school board any grievances. Jim Ashcroft, a member of the executive committee, will be chairman.

It was announced that anyone desiring to donate books to the school library may do so now. A concentrated drive for books is being planned for November.

It was announced that anyone missed in the birthday calendar drive should contact Mrs. Ruth Trimble at 573-9757 or Mrs. Ruth Leeper at 573-9573 by Oct. 20.

The PTA donated $10 to each of the elementary teachers for use as needed in their school rooms. It was reported the PTA now has 118 paid-up members. The attendance banners were won by the elementary room of Richard Davis and the high school room of Mrs. Marie Elliott.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Dorothy Yanchik, hospital-ity chairman, in charge. Next meeting is Nov. 12.

City, Midland Rotarians Plan Tour Of Crucible

A tour of the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works will highlight a joint meeting of the East Liverpool and Midland Rotary Clubs Thursday night.

Members will assemble at the 10th St. gate at 6 with dinner to be served in the new management diningroom. The plant tour will follow, with Glenn Roberts, community relations superintendent, in charge.

Jules Jacob is program chairman and the Midland club is hosting the first joint meeting in several years. Forty-seven are expected to attend from East Liverpool.

2 Delegates Elected By Fairview Grange

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills were elected delegates to the West Virginia Grange session Oct. 24-27 at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pugh-ton Grange Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cunningham were chosen alternates. Following the meeting, the annual wiener roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Huff of Route 2, Campbell Herron, master, presided. Thirty-one attended. Next meeting is Oct. 23.

Jaycees To Sponsor Dance After Game

The Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today it will hold a free dance for high school youths at the former American Paper Products building on Walnut St. after the Potters-Youngstown Rayen footballgame Friday night.

The dance will be for youths from 13 to 18. It will be from 10 to 11:30 p. m. Chaperones will be present.

All area teen-agers are invited. Disc jockey Bob Logan will provide the music.

Jury Selection Starts In City Burglary Case

A jury was being selected this morning at Lisbon for the trial of Richard H. Bankard, 37, of Alliance, indicted for burglary and auto larceny at the Central Service in East Liverpool.

The trial originally scheduled was for Charles Allen of Midland, indicted for larceny for breaking into a Petrosol Co. depository box in East Liverpool April 12, but was postponed.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard is presiding this term of court.

Sir Frank Whittle invented jet propulsion for aircraft.

Let's Face It!

MOST ALL of us have jobs . . . sweat it out under work shirts or white collars. We do it to provide for our families, buy homes, lay a little aside for the future.

OUR NEIGHBORS do the same. We attend the same Church, are lodge members, our kids are playmates. When things like COMMUNITY FUND come up, we all face the same responsibility. We all benefit, so we all GIVE. But something we can't afford is to take a couple days off to "pass the hat" . . . even for this worthy cause.

WHY SHOULD WE? We all know that COMMUNITY FUND helps support our local Health & Welfare agencies. We know these agencies need this help to keep on serving us. We know that there are no Federal, State or Municipal funds to do this job. We also know that our Gifts aren't being sent out of town. Almost every penny you give is spent right here in the Tri-State.

THAT'S WHY my firm, like other employers, has gone in for the new COMPANY-FAMILY Plan. It cuts out waste motion and the "pestering" at home or job. We get together with the Boss (where we work), make our COMMUNITY FUND Pledges, get the whole thing wrapped up in a hurry.

THERE'LL BE no "knocking on doors" this year . . . except to pick up stragglers and shirkers. Let's hope there will be few.

Dear friends,

We have never in all our experience refused our service to any family, regardless of financial circumstances. Our services are available to all who need us.

All charges in our establishment are set out in plain figures so that the family may know the exact cost before final selection is made.

The cost can be kept within any range the family desires.

Respectfully,

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Almost all homes have a large laundry hamper. I had my husband make a shelf in the bottom of my hamper about as tall as a box of detergent. Under this shelf, store all the cleaning agents. The children don't usually look there and it keeps everything in one place. There is still plenty of room on top of this little removable shelf for our dirty clothes.

I like the idea from the lady who uses dime store handkerchiefs on her kitchen cabinet pulls to keep small children out of the cabinet.

Heloise, a strong rubber band has worked well for me. When my little ones open the doors, my rubber band snaps them (the doors and the kids!) back into place quickly... and you should see the look on their little faces when it does!

DAILY READER

DEAR HELOISE: I am on my third baby. I am absolutely sick of ammonia odor in diapers. Since I wash diapers every day or so, I would like to know if someone has an answer to this?

I am most anxious to get rid of this odor. My neighbors have the same trouble. We "coffee" friends would surely welcome any suggestion from any of our other "coffee" friends. Their letters are discussed each morning in our neighborhood.

VALERIE

If anyone can help this woman, get out the pencil and write this column. I have searched my reference books and the answer is not there. Send answers to Heloise in care of The Review.

HELOISE

Carbon Cleaned

DEAR HELOISE: My husband works in white shirts and they get covered with grease and carbon.

For typewriter ribbon smudge, I use rubbing alcohol, then saturate the grease spots with a good grade of white vegetable shortening and let the laundry do the rest. Result, clean shirts.

HELEN STEARNS

Grounds Avoided

DEAR HELOISE: I keep sediment from coffee (and have a coffee pot that is very easy to clean) by lining the basket of my percolator with a tissue. Cut to fit your coffee basket. Just push the middle of a tissue over the middle post into the coffee basket itself. Put the coffee in.

It is very easy to dispose of the grounds this way, and the percolator stays clean.

BETTY MAZAK

Sharp Idea

DEAR HELOISE: I have just discovered that a hunk of "goosey" mud will pick up the broken glass slivers beautifully from the rough surface of concrete on the patio or sidewalk.

Tobin Aims 1862 Emancipation At Roundtable

The effect of the preliminary Emancipation Proclamation issued by Abraham Lincoln in 1862 was discussed by Probate Judge Louis Tobin at a meeting of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night.

About 35 attended the meeting at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex where Judge Tobin said the proclamation — which freed the slaves in the rebellious Southern states — provided a turning point of the war.

He said Lincoln, who had considered the preservation of the Union as the key issue for the North, was pressured into the emancipation move which left slaves in the border states and conquered areas still in bondage. General freeing of slaves did not come until ratification of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution in 1865.

The proclamation, however, inserted a new moral issue in the conflict and, despite the disfavor shown by leaders of some European nations, won wide support among the people of those nations for the North's cause, the judge said.

Whether or not Lincoln had legal basis for his action on freeing the property of the Southerners became pointless with the North's victory and the subsequent Constitutional amendments, he said.

Discussion followed on various aspects of the slavery issue. About 15 members of the re-activated 19th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment headed by Col. T. H. Hamlin of Alliance attended in uniform.

Wellsville Winners Named In Fire Prevention Contest

The first two winners in a "tie-riffic" contest for the observance of Fire Prevention Week in Wellsville were announced today by Chief Robert Lewis.

Mrs. Frank Bonadio, 510 Broadway, was the winner Monday and Jack Sayre, 514 Broadway, won Tuesday.

They recognized the correct persons wearing a bright red necktie and asked "Are you the fire marshal of the day?" Each will receive a prize.

Lewis pointed out there are eight residents who will wear the ties, all during the week. A different one is designated daily as the fire marshal.

Lewis said anyone who guesses all of the marshals also will receive a prize.

In another promotion, a "centery" has been erected in the driveway of the fire station. It will be lighted tonight. Various fire prevention slogans are marked on each of the crosses which have been set to designate lives lost in fires.

A poster contest is being held in the first through sixth grades of school. Trophies will be awarded the winner and runnerup in each.

A junior fire marshal contest also is being held in the elementary grades. The school returning the largest number of home inspection blanks will receive a large trophy. The trophies will be displayed this week in a downtown store window.

Various other prevention procedures also are being used in Wellsville this year.

Ceramic Auto Stocking Toys For Christmas

"As shells remember the roar of the sea" . . . so do customers remember Ceramic Auto Supply at E. 8th and Walnut Sts. in East Liverpool when it's time to buy Christmas toys.

With Christmas 1962 not far away, the store is being stocked with toys of all descriptions, guaranteed to put twinkles in the eyes of youngsters everywhere when "that morning" arrives.

Ceramic Auto Supply beckons a holiday welcome each year to thrifty customers who sought and found satisfaction in toys purchased in other Christmas seasons.

They come from as far away as Pittsburgh and Kent, Steubenville and Ravenna, Beaver Falls and Monaca, Weirton and Wellsburg, Canton and Warren, and of course right here in the Tri-State Area communities.

As in the past, the store is again offering the latest in children's toys, all "Made in America."

And Ceramic's toys are priced overall about as reasonable as reasonable can be. A comparison with similar toys in other stores only adds truth to the store's claim of low, low prices . . . providing the customer doesn't forget to check more than just two or three.

That this is the Space Age is truly evident in Ceramic Auto's stock of toys now being readied for Christmas . . . like the "Space Ear," a large radar screen that turns make-believe into reality for budding rocket technicians.

Toys for young cowboys, Army generals, astronauts, musicians, athletes and promising geniuses are in stock, along with quiz games for pleasant hours of family fun, stuffed animals begging to be cuddled, educational games, and wagons, bicycles and scooters.

For the hobbyists, Ceramic Auto offers a full line of wood-burning sets and mosaic tile kits.

There are hundreds of other toys arriving, awaiting the smart "early-bird" shoppers. Lay-aways are already started.

Quota Completes Plans

Travelogues Will Begin Tuesday

Final arrangements for the World Travel and Adventure Series to be sponsored by the Quota Club were made at the luncheon meeting Tuesday afternoon at Travelers Hotel. Some 20 attended.

Mrs. Rebecca Turk is shown receiving tickets and literature distributed by Miss Mildred McGregor. Looking on, left to right, are Mrs. Laura Reinacher, Mrs. Nellie McLain, Mrs. Marie Hays, Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, Dr. Edith Gilmore and Mrs. Lucille Singer.

The opening travelogue is scheduled Tuesday at Westgate School with the others set for three consecutive Tuesdays. Proceeds will go to the Speech and Hearing Clinic which the club operates at Westgate School.

Mrs. Hays, chairman, asked members to turn in names of ticket buyers, patron or otherwise, to compile a record for future years. Returns may be taken to Miss Luella Thompson at the First National Bank. Mrs. Turk gave the report on patron tickets and Mrs. Reinacher on the hall displays.

Mrs. McLain, president, conducted business. Mrs. Clara Hall read the minutes and Mrs. Mary Gladwyn Daily, the financial report.

The group voted to send a contribution to the "Meals for Millions", a project of Quota International.

The next evening meeting was canceled due to the travelogue. A luncheon will be held Nov. 13 at the hotel.

City Youth Awarded Firm's Scholarship

An East Liverpool youth has been awarded one of four new scholarships offered by the United Clay Mines Corp. in its educational assistance program for dependents of its employees.

Clinton Ray Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gill of Beacon Way, Dixonville, is using his scholarship at Bliss College in Columbus where he has enrolled as a freshman. He is a 1962 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Gill's father is a retired yardman at the Trenton firm's local plant on Maple St.

Firemen Buy Rogers Siren

ROGERS — Volunteer firemen Monday night purchased a new siren, ordered the erection of the old siren on College Hill and set next Monday evening for a special meeting to discuss remodeling for a fire hall.

The firemen and auxiliary met at the Community Hall with Dale Williams, president, in charge. Firemen approved purchase of the siren costing $150.

The new siren will replace the one in the Community Hall, which will be moved to College Hill with Sidney Cowan, William Crawford, Harley Rice, John Dyke and Wilbur Houston as the committee in charge.

Williams reported the fire department now has a fire contract with the village for the balance of this year.

He said a lease agreement between the firemen and the village was read at the last Council meeting. It is for a 10-year period.

A lengthy discussion was held on remodeling the west end of the Community Building for a fire hall. It will be discussed further at a special meeting of firemen and the auxiliary Monday at 8 p. m. in the Community Hall.

Lyle Meek, a Prudential Insurance agent, spoke on insurance for the firemen on an individual basis. No action was taken.

County Fire Group Issues Safety Appeal For Parents

The Columbiana County Firemen's Association, representing all the departments in the county, today issued a personal message to parents in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week.

"Some parents are almost willing to say, 'I'll bet my children's lives I won't have a fire.'"

"Sounds ridiculous doesn't it, but let's recall a few headlines seen in recent months."

"1. Alone As Mother Shops, Two Children Die In Fire."

"2. Parents Out, Three Die In Fire."

"3. Baby Dies In Fire At Home, While Mother Is At Store."

"4. Children Die In Home Fire, Father Next Door."

"Now, does it still sound ridiculous when we say 'You bet your children's lives when you leave children under age of 14 are fire fatalities each year and unknown thousands suffer extreme pain and maiming for life.'"

"Fire is the leading killer of small children in home accidents."

"Why?"

"One reason is their helplessness. If trapped in a burning building they are unable to help themselves. Sometimes they will do the natural thing to a small child and hide in the burning building because of their fear. With this is coupled the natural curiosity and ignorance of fire in young children."

"There is no excuse for leaving children alone. The Columbiana County Firemen's Association suggests the following."

"1. Teach your children what to do in case of fire day or night."

Wellsville Democrat Club Elects Chairman

Robert B. Travers was elevated as chairman when the Executive Board of the Progressive Democrat Club of Wellsville met Monday night with Barron Foster, 819 Wood St.

He succeeds Ernest L. Gibson, who resigned as chairman, but agreed to serve as vice chairman.

Also elected were Mrs. Lucille Foster, ways and means committee chairman, and Mrs. Eva Hilton, the club's official hostess.

Griffith Takes Oath As High Court Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Warren jurist has become the 125th judge to sit on the Ohio Supreme Court bench since the high court was established.

Judge Lynn B. Griffith, chief justice of the 7th District Court of Appeals, took his oath of office here Monday in a ceremony witnessed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and more than 50 spectators.

He succeeds Judge James F. Bell of London who resigned to practice law. DiSalle appointed Griffith Sept. 22. The governor said the appointment was the easiest he ever made because of Griffith's qualifications.

Before being appointed to the Appeals Court in 1950, Griffith served as Warren city solicitor, ren; a brother-in-law; Morrell Miller and his son Donald, both of Warren.

Others present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson, president of the Trumbull County Bar Association; Paul Nader, an assistant Trumbull County prosecutor; Warren attorneys Paul Guarneri and Robert Cochran; Youngstown City Solicitor Russell Mock; U.S. District Court Judge Paul Doyle, Youngstown, and 7th District Appellate Court Judges Paul Brown and John Donahue, both of Youngstown.

Appellate Court Judge Arthur W. Doyle of Akron, in the 9th District, sat on the Supreme Court in place of ailing Judge

Thomas J. Herbert for the swearing in ceremony.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever a page is missing from our newspaper I know my wife didn't want me to see something in your column. Naturally, my curiosity gets the best of me. I want to see what she is hiding, so I go out and buy another paper.

This evening it happened again. I asked my wife in feigned innocence what happened to part of the paper. She said she had torn out a recipe.

I went out after supper and bought a paper. Sure enough, your column had a letter in it from a woman who wanted to know if a wife should pick up after her husband. She had complained because his clothes were all over the house, bath towels were on the floor, etc.

You took the wind out of her sails by telling her to pick up after him and do it cheerfully. You said it wasn't worth fighting about, and that it took less energy to pick up a few things than to fight about it.

I showed the column to my wife and she replied, "Yeah, well I'll bet Ann doesn't pick up after her husband."

This letter is to ask you to answer her question. How about it?—D.L.H.

Dear D. L. H.: I've been picking up after my husband for 24 years and I hope I can do it for at least another 24.

Belated Opinion

Dear Ann: I'm a little late getting into the fray but I hope you'll print my letter anyway.

Someone suggested that perhaps the reason physicians refuse to respond to the familiar cry, "Is there a doctor in the house?" is because they fear a malpractice suit if the patient dies.

The idea that patients turn on their rescuers with lawsuits is pure poppycock. Eleven states now have a "Good Samaritan Law" which exempts doctors from liability when giving free, emergency service. In most states the law has been vetoed because it is unnecessary.

An official American Medical Association study failed to turn up a single suit arising from roadside emergency treatment. A spot check of state medical societies uncovered only two such suits and they were unsuccessful.

There have been, however, a number of malpractice suits arising from hospital emergency room treatment. These suits have made some doctors leary of administering on-the-spot first aid. Perhaps this is what all the yakking is about. I thought you'd like to know. — YOUR MEDICAL SPY.

Dear Spy: Thanks for the G 2. Another spy informs that a number of malpractice suits are filed and then withdrawn when it becomes apparent they can't get off the ground. Opportunists who think they can put the squeeze on a well-meaning physician find they are a poor match for the medical society's attorneys.

Reasonable Doubts

Dear Ann: I feel like a fool having to write for advice but I'm beginning to doubt my own judgment.

I'm a career woman and a widow who has been going with a man for three years. He has told me he is divorced. When I ask questions about his former wife he claims up and the evening is spoiled, so now I studiously avoid the subject.

In all the time we've been going together he never has given me his phone number. I have yet to meet a single member of his family although I know he has a brother and two sisters in town as well as parents. He says he will marry me when he gets a few of his financial problems settled. I'm beginning to get suspicious.

Why can't I phone him? Why has he never taken me to see his apartment? Why doesn't he introduce me to his family? What is he hiding? — PENNSIE PET.

Dear Pet: Probably a wife and family. Get with it, Sister.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing stamp, self-addressed envelope.

Fall Injures Newell Pupil

A Newell area girl hurt in a fall on the way from school was treated Tuesday at City Hospital, where two women and another area youngster were also treated after separate mishaps.

Kristie Lee Monroe, 9, daughter of Charles Monroe of Snow Hill near Newell, suffered a laceration of the scalp in a fall against a stone in a small creek while playing on the way from school.

David Wright, 4, son of Virgil Wright of Midland Heights, was treated last night for a fracture of the left arm received in a fall from a chair at home.

Delores DeHaven of the Clover Club near Chester suffered a laceration of the right forearm when a bottle broke as she was filling a cooler.

Charlotte Foltz, 501 Harrison St., Newell, employee of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., was treated yesterday morning for a fracture of the left arm suffered in a fall at work.

Gas Firm Aide To Address Lions

The potential of natural gas as a principal energy source of the future as well as its current contribution to scientific progress will be described by Miss Joan Ziegler of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

With a theme, "The Soaring Sixties", Miss Ziegler will outline the history of natural gas in Ohio as part of "America's original natural gasland" and describe the newest discoveries, techniques and equipment which are being developed and incorporated into Ohio Valley's operations and future planning.

A representative of the utility's public relations department in Columbus, she was graduated from Baldwin-Wallace College and Yale University Divinity School and is a candidate for master's and doctorate degrees at Ohio State University.

She will be introduced by Edgar Shingler, program chairman.

45% Of Goal Pledged First Week In Beaver Fund Drive

The 1962 campaign of United Funds of Beaver County has produced first-week pledges totaling $344,715, or 45 per cent of the $765,652 goal.

Edward A. Sahli of Beaver Falls, county chairman, said each of the eight areas, comprising the countywide organization, have held initial progress report meetings.

Leading with the highest percentage report to date is the Aliquippa area, $124,431, or 52 per cent of its goal. The Ambridge and Rochester areas are running a close second. Ambridge has achieved $57,940, and Rochester, $16,815, each 51 per cent.

The Monaca area reported $32,397, or 42 per cent, and the Upper Beaver Valley ranks fifth, having obtained $71,023 or 41 per cent.

The Beaver Area has achieved 40 per cent, or $26,819. Midland has achieved 36 per cent, or $17,000, and Central Beaver Valley area reports $3,590, or 30 per cent.

The campaign among countywide prospects stands at $7,420, or 26 per cent of a $29,000 goal.

This week, second progress report meetings were scheduled for Ambridge, Beaver, Midland and the Upper Beaver Valley Areas.

Yanks, Giants Try Again Today After Rain Halts Series

Weather Isn't Promising For Today; Lineups Remain Same

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Rival managers Ralph Houk of New York and Alvin Dark of San Francisco insisted today the 24-hour World Series rain-enforced delay would prove of no advantage to either team as the Yankees and Giants met in the fifth game all even at two victories apiece.

The belief here, however, is that Tuesday's rain-out will be more helpful to the Yankees than to the Giants, although neither manager planned to make a lineup or a pitching change. The same right-handed pitchers were ready to hook up today — Ralph Terry for the Yankees and Jack Sanford for the Giants.

The delay also caused no change in the odds. The Yankees remained a 7-5 favorite to win today and 8-5 favorites to capture the series.

The weather forecast was not optimistic. The prediction was for drizzle and fog during the night and mostly cloudy throughout the day.

The big change, may come in the sixth game, scheduled to be played Friday in San Francisco after a day off for travel. Under the original pitching rotation, the sixth game starters were to be right-hander Bill Stafford for the Yankees and left-hander Billy Pierce for the Giants.

Dark still plans to pitch Pierce, who dropped a 3-2 decision to Stafford in the third game, last Sunday. But Houk most likely will switch from Stafford to Whitey Ford, the brilliant southpaw who was slated to work the seventh game, if one was necessary.

"While I don't see where the delay would give either team an advantage," said Houk, "it does give me a chance to go two ways for the sixth game Friday. Before I would have used Stafford. Now I can start either Ford or Stafford. I won't decide until we arrive in San Francisco."

Dark said he would have preferred to play although acknowledging that the field was unplayable, but felt certain the postponement would have no effect whatsoever on either team.

"I had planned to pitch Sanford in the fifth, Pierce in the sixth and come back with Sanford for the seventh game," he said. "The rotation is still the same except that now I may use either Sanford or Billy O'Dell in the seventh game."

Terry Eager To Work, Wants 1st Series Win

By JIM BECKER
NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Terry, the starting pitcher for the New York Yankees in today's rain-delayed fifth game of the World Series, isn't climbing out on any limb with the weather man.

The fellow with the maps, charts and wetted finger held to the wind called it "fair and mild" for the fifth game Tuesday. It rained all day.

Terry, a slender young right-hander, had this prediction about how the delay will affect him today: "Maybe I'll be better—maybe I'll be worse."

Terry was eager to work Tuesday for two reasons. He wants to win his first World Series game, after four losing efforts in three series, and he has a new baby, born only hours after he lost the second game 2-0 to Jack Sanford of the San Francisco Giants last Friday.

The 26-year-old who had a record of 23-12 during the regular season, was almost the last Yankee to leave the clubhouse after the fifth game was postponed.

The other team members quickly climbed out of their uniforms and left Yankee Stadium.

The Yankees, who go about the business of a World Series like professional hangmen at a rope maker's convention, did not seem to feel strongly one way or the other about the postponement.

Manager Ralph Houk said he didn't think either team gained by the extra day off.

"We were ready to play," Houk said. "But the field was so wet it was dangerous. Besides I'd hate to see an important World Series game won because of a slip, or a bad throw with a wet ball."

Houk said the extra day will give his ace, Whitey Ford, another day of rest, and also help his other starter, Bill Stafford, recover from a bruise suffered when he was hit on the shin by a line drive in the third game.

Rayen Big, Shows 2-Game Win String

It's hard to remember when an East Liverpool team faced a bigger squad than what Youngstown Rayen will bring into Patterson Field Friday night for the Potters homecoming battle.

Reports from Youngstown say the 1962 Rayen squad is one of the biggest known in that city for sometime.

Coach Ralph Robinette can start an offensive eleven which Everhart and Paul also were early season casualties and are just rounding into shape.

In Winston, who plays left halfback, Rayen has probably one of the tallest halfbacks in the state. A star in basketball, Winston stands 6-foot-5 and is the leading scorer of the Tiger squad with four touchdowns and six points on conversions.

The forward wall is spearheaded by a pair of 230 pound lettermen tackles in Fred Fabry and Rick Goldberg. These two would be a pleasant sight for a coach on any team.

The center, Louis Santangelo, hits 200 pounds and stands 6-foot-1. Ron Kohut, another 200 pounder, will be at one guard spot with Tom Nunziato (175) at the other. Both are seniors. The ends will be Oscar Brown, a 160-pound junior who is Youngstown's 880 and mile champ in track, and Frank Percic (165).

With Paul, the 225-pound fullback in the lineup, the starting eleven would average 192 pounds with the line hitting 194.

Beaver Local Football Tickets Are On Sale

Tickets for the Beaver-Local-Northwestern (Pa.) game Friday at Beaver Local are on sale at the school. The kickoff is set for 8 p. m. (DST). Northwestern is from Darlington, Pa.

would include seven gridders who weigh 200 pounds or more.

WITH a team this size, one may ask, why a 2-2 record? The truth is that pre-season injuries kept several key performers out of the lineup for Rayen's first two contests.

The Youngstown team lost its opener to Canton Lincoln, 38-8 but came back to battle a strong Cardinal Mooney eleven, only to fall, 14-8. The last two contests have gone into the win column for Rayen. They included two shutouts, 20-0 over Youngstown East and 22-0 over Woodrow Wilson.

The big guns of the Rayen attack are quarterback Rick Ballentine, a three year veteran who hits the scales at 200 and stands 6-foot-2, halfback Roy Winston, a 210 pounder, and a pair of fullbacks who alternate at that position — Louis Everhart (175) and Ernie Paul (225).

BALLENTINE was injured before the season even started and didn't see action until the Woodrow Wilson game last Saturday night. In that game though, he scored two touchdowns.

Cast Taken Off Leg Of Mountaineer Back

MORGANTOWN (AP)—The cast was taken off the injured leg of West Virginia halfback Jim Moss yesterday.

Team doctors planned to take another look at Moss's knee which was severely sprained in the Virginia Tech game Sept. 29.

If the knee revealed enough improvement, gradual strengthening exercises were to begin.

Coach Gene Corum, meanwhile, said sophomore guard Alan Hoover may be in the starting lineup Saturday against Pitt.

Hoover stood out with his defensive play against Boston last weekend. He was credited with five tackles and five assists. Should Hoover get the nod as a starter, he would replace Bob DeLorenzo.

LSU Picked Over Undeclared Miami; Alabama Favored

Minnesota Given Edge On Wildcats

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The World Series teams are battling again today, leaving us just room enough to give you the winners of this weekend's college football games.

Last week's assortment of upsets had 12 losers among the 49 games that went to a decision for a .755 average.

Alabama over Houston: Alabama, the nation's No. 1 team, supposedly has a weakness at fullback but Houston won't be able to prove it.

Texas over Oklahoma: The Longhorns probably aren't as strong as a year ago and the Sooners are better but Texas has enough margin to win.

Penn State over Army: The Pennsylvania Lions have only two full teams, Army boasts of three but the Cadets do not have either Dave Robinson or Roger Kochman.

Louisiana State over Miami: The Miamians have squeaked to three straight triumphs. The Bayou Bengals stop the streak right there.

Washington over Oregon State: The Huskie defense to keep Terry Baker bottled up.

Arkansas over Baylor: The defense-minded Porkers have the young halfbacks to duplicate last year's 23-13 triumph.

Purdue over Miami (Ohio): A chance for the Boilermaker subs to earn their letters.

Ohio State over Illinois: This is the Illini homecoming and the grads will be saddened by what coach Woody Hayes' angered Buckeyes, spilled by UCLA a week ago, will do to their team.

Georgia Tech over Tennessee: Tennessee has line problems. Georgia Tech has Dave Watson and Rufus Guthrie, twin candidates for All-America at guard.

UCLA over Colorado State University: The Coloradoans have lost 19 in a row.

Wisconsin over Notre Dame: Pat Richter, giant pass catching end, gives the Badgers the nod.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The Mountaineers haven't been scored upon this year but the Panthers will pick up enough points to win.

Duke over California: The Dukes have an efficient passing attack plus Jay Wilkinson while California has many, many sophomores.

Minnesota over Northwestern: Where do you find a better tackle tandem than Minnesota's Bobby Bell and Carl Eller?

Bob Titchenal, St. Jose State College football coach, played for the Washington Redskins, San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams.

Unitas & Co. Invade Sunday

Browns' Defensive Eleven To Get Test From Colts

CLEVELAND — A stubborn and proud defensive unit gets its severest test of the young NFL season Sunday afternoon when the Baltimore Colts, led by passing ace Johnny Unitas, gallop in for a football date with the Cleveland Browns. Kickoff time is 2:05 p.m. (EDT).

So far it's been this defensive crew that's kept the Browns in the thick of things despite an inability to move the ball consistently.

"Maybe we've turned the corner," noted head coach Paul Brown hopefully. "The boys have been so tense after a number of small mistakes that became big. But they seemed to loosen up a little in the second half against Dallas."

"Meanwhile, our defensive unit has done a splendid job."

JUST HOW good a job they've done is told in the game recaps. In the one really important statistic — the score — they've held New York, Washington and Dallas to their lowest point totals of the year. The Giants got only seven and Dallas 10 while the Redskins managed 17 but seven of those came on an intercepted lateral pass, chargeable to the offense.

In the fourth game, at Philadelphia, offensive errors heaped an undue burden on the defensive unit and led to their only less-than-great showing of the season.

BIG BILL Glass, a seminary

student in the off season, has made the big difference up front where the cigarette makers agree it counts most. Glass's bull-like rushes have spearheaded the Browns' anti-aircraft strategy and taken a little heat off the secondary that was so beleaguered a year ago.

And it should get even better with veteran Jim Houston finally giving signs of reaching peak condition under the handicap of army duty six days a week. He'll be able to spell Paul Wiggins often enough to keep a fresh man in there most of the time.

This development couldn't come at a more opportune time as Johnny Unitas is unstoppable unless under steady pressure from the front four.

OSU Board Gives OK For Bowl If Offered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's 1962 football team, thanks to the university's Faculty Council, may yet get a chance to redeem itself in sunny Southern California.

The council, by a 36-20 vote, has given the Buckeyes permission to accept a Rose Bowl bid if one comes.

The decision Tuesday was a reversal of last year's council stand (28-25) when it denied the 1961 Big Ten champion Bucks a Rose Bowl trip.

Now all the Bucks have to do is win the conference championship again to earn the chance to atone before West Coast fans in Pasadena for the 9-7 loss to UCLA in the Los Angeles Coliseum last Saturday. The coast representative will be the six-school Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU) champion, and the Buckeyes must be hoping it will be UCLA for a shot at revenge.

Under the new ruling Ohio State will participate so long as a formal contract is in effect between the Big Ten and the AAWU to match conference representatives in the annual New Year's game.

The agreement between the conferences, in effect about 15 years after World War II, was killed by a Big Ten tie vote and lapsed last year. This was probably one reason last year's Faculty Council—one-third of its membership is changed each year—voted down the bowl junket.

The Big Ten-AAWU Rose Bowl tie-up resumed on this year's 6-4 vote of the midwestern universities making up the Big Ten. Ohio State voted against the tie-up, as it had previously. But Minnesota switched from "no" to "yes" to break the 5-5 deadlock—after its Faculty Senate accepted a bid to the Jan. 1, 1962, game for the '61 Gophers.

Thus the Ohio State position is, "We're against it, but we'll go along with the conference majority."

Football coach Woody Hayes received news of Tuesday's ruling happily. "Fine, just fine," he kept saying.

"Now," he said, "all we have to do is earn it (the bowl bid)."

Objectors to the postseason game cited commercialism, athletic overemphasis to the detriment of academics, financial expense and disruption of scholastic routine.

Hawks, Leafs Open Season

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs open the National Hockey League campaign tonight exactly where they left off last season.

The Maple Leafs defeated the Hawks in Chicago Stadium last spring to grab the Stanley Cup which the Hawks had won the previous year.

The Hawks and Leafs have met twice in exhibition games this season with Chicago taking both games, 3-1 and 3-2.

The Leafs failed to win a single exhibition game this season but came up with a 4-1 victory in Saturday night's All-Star game.

The Hawks finished third last season and are aiming for the top spot which has been dominated by the Montreal Canadiens the last five years.

While the Hawks and Leafs open the season tonight, the other four NHL clubs will be idle. They open Thursday night with Montreal at Boston and Detroit at New York.

The campaign in which each team plays 70 games ends March 24.

Golfers Resume Play In Bakersfield Open

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Golf's touring professionals resume firing here Thursday in the $40,000 Bakersfield Open, richest purse on the autumn tournament trail.

The 72-hole event, which winds up Sunday, will be played over the par 36-35-81 Bakersfield Country Club course. Last year's winner, Jack Fleck, is in the field.

Too Anxious For 1st HR, Mantle Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle glumly surveyed his .133 World Series batting average today and decided he was too eager to hit his first home run.

Going into the fifth game of the series against the San Francisco Giants, the New York Yankee center fielder and team leader has collected a paltry two hits in 15 times at bat and not an RBI.

But he's not hitting the panic button and neither is Yank Manager, Ralph Houk.

"I guess," said Mantle, "my trouble is that I am too anxious to hit my first home run. I know I have struck out three times when I should have walked."

That would indicate he's been pressing, trying to get a piece of the ball and in the end being outfoxed by Giant pitchers who refuse to give him anything good to hit.

"You've got to give credit to the Giants pitchers," he observed. "They've been pitching me real good. Nothing special. They've just been mixing them up."

Redlegs Bring Up 3 From San Diego Club

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have brought up pitchers George McWilliams and Marv Fodor, plus outfielder Ken Walters, from their San Diego farm team of the Pacific Coast League.

In exchange, the Reds sent to San Diego pitchers Ted Wills, Bob Krop and Bobby Risenhoover.

Final Golf Event Set At EL Club Oct. 27

The final men's golf event of the season at the East Liverpool Country Club will be held Oct. 27 and not this Saturday as announced Monday. Members are requested to sign up as soon as possible. Prizes will be awarded for the longest drive on No. 9 and No. 18 and the golfer shooting closest to the pin on No. 4 and No. 6.

sionals and 20 amateurs was 52-year-old Dick Shoemaker of Cleveland, the 1955 and 1956 victor.

Shoemaker had four birdies and five bogies in Tuesday's tour of Firestone Country Club's wet and windswept, 7,165-yard course. That gave him a 1-over par 71—the day's best round—and a two-day total of 144, 4-over par.

A stroke back were Leo Biagetti of Ashland and Bob Shave Jr. of Willoughby. Three shots off the pace were Bob Zimmerman of Dayton and Don Shock of Columbus.

At 148 were Tom Cassady of Circleville; Jim Lucius of Troy; Wally Ulrich, Akron pro; Frank Harned of Cleveland, and Dick Rhyon Jr. of Columbus.

Fishing Group Back After Canadian Trip

A group of 10 Columbiana County residents have returned from a fishing trip in Canada that they have been making annually for 10 years. The party included:

Robert Dorrance and son, Jeff, Edwin Thomas, Francis Clunk, Pete Gallo and son, Glen, Chester Kennedy and son, Rick, all of the Lisbon area; Harry Theimecke of East Liverpool and E. Fred Filler of Salem.

They returned home Sunday from the five-day trip at Lift-A-Latch Lodge, on the French River in the northern part of Ontario.

Sanford Is Disappointed

Rain Not Changing Things For Giants, Dark Declares

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager

Alvin Dark maintains the rain postponement of the fifth World

Series game makes no difference at all to his San Francisco Giants.

"This delay doesn't change things," he declared and pointed out the present series schedule, with two travel dates, makes this a much different situation from 1951.

That year the Giants, housed in

New York, led the Yankees two games to one when a rain postponement gave Allie Reynolds enough rest so he could start the fourth game and the American Leaguers went on to win four games to two. The Yankees, strapped for pitchers, had planned to use reliever Johnny Sain while the Giants had their ace, Sal

Maglie, ready.

"Because of the travel dates this time, the pitchers are ready," said Dark, who was the shortstop of the Giants 1951 team.

He continued with his announced pitching rotation with

Jack Sanford hurling the final

Yankee Stadium contest with Billy Pierce to open when the clubs return to San Francisco's Candlestick Park.

Players were disappointed at the delay—Sanford especially.

"It's tough to get yourself up for a game, wait that long and have it rained out. But those things happen sometimes."

Pierce at 35 could get an advantage with the delay providing more rest, but he quickly pointed out the same might be true for the Yankee who faces him—either

Whitely Ford or Bill Stafford.

"One thing you can't do anything about is the elements,"

Billy said philosophically.

Asked if the delay might either help or hinder the Giants, Dark maintained, "It won't make any difference."

He kept the same batting order for today that he listed to face

Ralph Terry Tuesday had the game been played.

Then a pickup truck was stolen from a nearby apple orchard.

Next, a car was stolen in Hagerstown. It was the one wrecked here. It had a shoe inside, mate to the old one of three found in the wrecked station wagon.

Last report apparently connected with the case was by a Batesville motorist who said he saw a pickup truck, stolen here, headed east on Ind. 46, with only one man visible in it. Ind. 46 runs to Hamilton County, Ohio.

AP General Manager

Plans Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank J.

Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, is retiring after

14 years as chief executive officer of the worldwide news service.

The AP's board of directors, holding its regular fall meeting here, announced that it "reluctantly accepts (his) own carefully considered decision."

Starzel, 58, joined The AP in 1929. He plans to retire to his farm near South Londonderry,

N.Y.

His announcement followed by two weeks that of Executive

Editor Alan J. Gould, after 21 years in the AP's top news post. Gould, who joined the AP in 1922, will retire next Feb. 1 at 65.

Altogether, the program costs

$75,000 a year, he added. "The Republican - controlled 104th

General Assembly was asked to increase this to $150,000 but refused," said the governor, who is seeking reelection.

DiSalle said programs such as this help take the pressure off institutions. The population again is climbing dangerously at the Boys'

Industrial School at Lancaster, which at last count had 747 boys

—"more than double the capacity that the institution and its staff can care for," he said.

Store Manager Cited

On 'Scheme' Charge

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The manager of the Montgomery Ward department store here has been arrested on a charge of operating a scheme or game of chance.

The game in question is a promotion project by the store in which persons clipped coupons from local newspapers, deposited them in a container at the store and these were drawn periodically for prizes.

The arrest Monday night of the manager, Richard S. Vanderslius,

52, was the second arrest here in less than a week on a similar charge.

On Oct. 4, grocer Clyde Evans was cited for a promotion program at his two grocery stores.

He faces trial Nov. 2.

TV May Need Its Own Sports Czar

Television is turning so many of our sports figures into greedy hams that legitimate actors soon will be eased off the TV tube completely — unless they own a jersey with a number on it or can shoot sub-par golf.

Perry Como had Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus playing stooge for him on last week's season opener. It had been pre-arranged, however, so that Palmer and Player could be out in Hollywood filming their new golf series which tees off on ABC's network next Jan. 12.

It's to be called "Challenge Golf." Palmer and Player are challenged for 13 matches by various other pro twosomes for a total prize kitty of $156,000.

"AMERICAN GOLF is simply a wonderful thing," said Johannesburg's enthusiastic Gary Player, sitting in the clubhouse at the posh Bel-Air Country Club.

He didn't seem dispirited over a two-match loss which he and Palmer had dropped to Mason Rudolph and Tommy Jacobs. Money seems to solve such competitive wounds now.

"I don't understand," Player continued, "why there are all of these squabbles. Why are critics so against us? They don't seem to realize that this wonderful game is bigger than all of us."

The "squabbles" Player refers to come from critics in and out of the Professional Golf Association who believe the game is being hurt by the mad race for bigger prize money and the unavailability of pros who are too busy appearing on TV or playing golf's new "World Series" to find time for the regular circuit.

BOTH PLAYER and Palmer admitted at Bel-Air that they were "over-golfed." They had just completed 13 matches in four weeks, a tremendously tight schedule because of the extra time demanded by the film crew.

The rush-rush was imposed by Palmer and Player themselves. Both are set for a two-man exhibition in South Africa. There is an Argentine tournament which both are entering, and Palmer soon is due to perform in a Bob Hope movie.

"Challenge Golf" resulted from an idea Palmer claims he thought of. His Worldwide Co. and MCA's Revue Productions are partners in the venture, with Palmer and Player getting a handsome salary besides the prize money won.

A REVUE PRODUCTIONS official, who preferred to remain anonymous, said the idea was actually hatched with his company.

"We have the best crew in the business to film the series, and everything the viewer sees on his screen beginning next January will really have happened. There will be no throwing a ball onto the green to save time, or any other tricks," said the MCA-Revue man.

Asked if such shenanigans took place on other golf shows, he let the question pass, as if anyone dumb enough to ask it should not be corrupted by the answer. Revue Productions, which already is the biggest supplier of entertainment shows on network TV, also "packages" the American Football League games. Last week it made a deal with the International Professional Ski Racers Association to film or tape a series of slalom races for TV.

THE ASSOCIATION is only a year old, but our Revue man insists it was not organized for the purpose of getting the members into a TV series.

"The nice thing about slalom races is that they are clean," he says. "After all, who is going to accuse a stopwatch of being fixed?"

Nobody was accusing anything of being fixed, but now that the subject has come up, maybe the networks had better appoint a TV sports czar just to peek in on these contests occasionally.

Remember how most of us got sucked in by the nice young school teacher fellow who won all that money answering all those questions?

Court Income Drops $1,481

Municipal Court income hit $2,364 in September, down $1,481 from August's $3,845, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city's share of last month's receipts was $2,157, off $1,412 from the $3,569 it was paid in August, the report showed.

A drop in revenue from criminal actions accounted for the decline. Criminal receipts produced $1,492 last month, off $1,446 from the $2,938 listed for August. Costs in civil cases were virtually unchanged — $611 in September, against $649 in August.

The civil and criminal receipts comprised the amount paid the city, along with $52.87 from fines and forfeitures in State Highway Patrol cases.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $52 to the state from patrol cases, $61 to the county treasury, also from state cases, and $2,364 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court in September was $9,610, down $1,964 from the $11,574 shown in August. The amount handled last month included $7,427 in the civil branch and $2,183 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 47 civil cases filed in September, 59 disposed of and 221 left pending; 37 city criminal cases filed, 26 disposed of and 51 left pending, and 21 state criminal cases filed, 21 disposed of and 107 left pending.

Openings Listed For Peace Corps

LISBON — The Peace Corps has accepted invitations from the governments of the Dominican Republic, Senegal, Nigeria and Morocco to assist in various agricultural development programs, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Training of volunteers selected for these projects will begin in October or November, and will include on-the-job skills, as well as language and culture studies. Prior knowledge of Spanish or French will be helpful, but is not a requirement for selection, Lower said.

Volunteers must be American citizens at least 18 years of age. There is no upper age limit. The basic education requirement is high school. Greater formal training or experience is required for some positions.

Volunteers receive a living allowance for food, clothing, housing, medical care, transportation and incidentals plus a termination payment of $1,800, based on $75 for each month of service.

Applications may be obtained from local Post Offices, county agents, Peace Corps liaison officers at colleges and universities, FHA offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington 25, D. C., Lower said.

Oil Exploration Firm Files Incorporation

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Tri-State Producing Co. of East Liverpool, an oil and gas exploration service, according to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Listed as stockholders are William E. Blair Jr. and wife, Mrs. Marilyn Blair, of Homestead Dr., R. D. 3, and Mrs. Roberta J. Kemp of Alliance. Blair, who has been employed in the past by oil firms, will conduct drilling operations in Northeastern Ohio.

Blair is listed as the agent for the firm. The firm listed 250 shares of common stock at $100 par value.

Lisbon Driver Fined For Unsafe Vehicle

LISBON — Melvin J. Liber, 49, of R.D. was fined $5 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Five who forfeited appearance bonds were Anthony J. Ruggiero, 46, of Bedford, and Bernard L. Alberts, 20, of Cleveland, $20 each for passing at the crest of a hill; William B. O'Neal, 28, of Madsville, W. Va., and Carl E. VanKirk, 18, of Morgantown, $25 each for reckless operation, and Winfield H. Hughes, 21, of Washington, Pa., $15 for speeding. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Bettis Will Address Summitville Group

SUMMITVILLE — Atty. J. Warren Bettis will speak at a meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night at 8:30 with Mrs. Fred H. Johnson. Mrs. Dominic Sabatino, Mrs. Paul Karaffa and Mrs. Lewis McCollough will be hostesses.

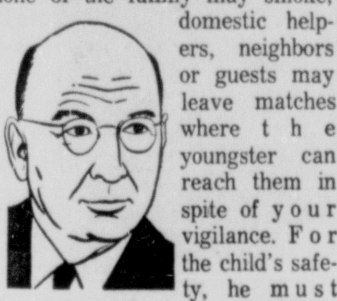

A public card party will be sponsored by the St. John's Catholic Church Altar and Rosary Society Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Parish Hall. Mrs. John Nemeth, chairman, said proceeds will be used for repairs to the church hall.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Must Learn About Fire Hazards

As soon as your child can creep or toddle, he will be attracted to fire, matches and lighters. Though none of the family may smoke,

Dr. Garry Meyers learn early to avoid a few dangerous objects and places. It may help to explain to him briefly why these are dangerous and to intercept him when he's about to seize or touch them, or to keep them out of his reach.

BUT THIS WON'T be enough. He must also learn to avoid these specific known dangers and to respect your "No" when other dangers arise.

He will most surely learn these inhibitions through physical pain applied to his bare thighs or hands immediately when he attempts to seize, touch or come very close to the known peril.

Lighters, books of matches, the gas or electric stove burners, an open fireplace are among the known dangers he should never touch, approach closely, or seize without instant physical pain which you provide without exception.

There's no surer way to teach the tot the alphabet of safety.

YOU SHOULD, of course, have a strong, safe screen in front of the fireplace and around every portable heater. The tot also needs to keep a safe distance from these screened hazards.

When trash is burned, he should be given instant pain if he approaches it closely or pokes it with a stick.

How soon you should let the child light a fire under your supervision, I don't know. Some parents allow this when he's only three or four. Delaying the time limit a few years might be better.

If you see your child three, four or six playing with matches or a lighter, apply physical pain at once. The lighter, so easily operated, may be even more perilous than matches. He should never be within reach of such a hazard out of the sight of a responsible person.

AND WHAT OF the child still older who, alone or with another child, has been known to start fires? He needs supervision for months so that he never can do it again without getting instant, effective punishment. His life and the lives of others, in addition to property, are at stake.

As with all misdemeanors you wish him to avoid, the more safe activities he can enjoy and the more understanding, love and security he gets from you, the more effective the necessary punishment will prove to be.

My bulletins, "Early Steps in Safety" and "How To Teach Tot Meaning of No," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

3 Rolls Of Film Confiscated

Photographer Covering Jackie's Return Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A news photographer covering Jacqueline Kennedy's return from a three-month vacation was held briefly by National Airport police after a Secret Service agent ruled him off limits and confiscated three rolls of film.

The film was returned at the White House later. Press secretary Pierre Salinger said "it was a misunderstanding."

Mrs. Kennedy and her two children flew in from Newport, R.I., late Tuesday amid elaborate precautions to guard her privacy.

Photographer Roddy Mims and courier John Steinberger, both of United Press International, were taken into custody by airport police who said the two had entered a restricted section of the airport.

Mrs. Kennedy's Air Force plane taxied to a remote part of the field, far from the military and commercial passenger terminals.

A wire fence rings the area, used primarily for parking of airplanes. Signs reading "restricted area, keep out" are posted along the fence.

The White House had announced the First Lady's expected arrival time. A White House motorcycle and Secret Service men waited near the fence for the plane.

It taxied to a stop almost half a mile away. The motorcycle moved out onto the field to meet the First Lady and the Kennedys' two children, Caroline and John Jr. Newsmen were kept behind the fence.

Mims and Steinberger riding the courier's motorcycle, followed the White House cars across the field.

Mims said later they entered the area through an open gate without seeing the signs.

Mims said he was taking pictures with a long-range lens about 100 yards from the plane when he felt a hand on his shoulder. Mims said he turned and saw Clint Hill, Mrs. Kennedy's personal Secret Service agent.

"You're under arrest," Mims said Hill told him. "I'm with the Secret Service. I'd like to have that film."

Edgar Wildy, assistant Secret Service chief for security, said that although Hill spoke to the photographer "he did not confine or arrest him. That was done by the airport police."

Wildy said the film was confiscated because the pictures were taken "under circumstances that were not proper."

Airport police took Mims and Steinberger to a terminal, where they were questioned by H. F. Fletcher of the Federal Aviation Agency. Both were quickly released.

A spokesman for UPI said the news service "considers the incident closed."

Metals Society Sets Dinner For Tonight

The Upper Ohio Valley Chapter of the American Society for Metals initiates its 1962-63 season at a dinner meeting Wednesday at a dinner meeting tonight at 6 in the Elks Club at Steubenville.

Roger J. Runck, director of defense metals information center of Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, will speak on "New Fabrication Processes for Aerospace Applications."

Enrollment is now open for two metals courses sponsored by the chapter. The first will be Monday night at 7:30 in Steubenville High School. The classes are "Elements of Metallurgy" and "Heat Treatment of Steels."

Gridders At Chester Will Pick Queen Slate

Two junior and three senior girls will be selected this week by the Chester High School football team as candidates for Homecoming Queen at the annual celebration Oct. 19-20.

Plans made by the Student Council call for crowning of the queen at halftime of the Chester-Crestview game Oct. 19.

A dance for students, alumni and guests will be held Oct. 20 at 8 at the high school auditorium with Stan Scott, Steubenville television announcer, providing entertainment. Jeff Oyster is general chairman.

Women Hurt In Car Crash

Two New Waterford area women received moderate injuries when their car was hit in the rear by another at the intersection of Routes 7 and 14 near Columbiana Monday night, while a Rogers youth escaped injury in a crash Tuesday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by Helen Curl, 54, of New Waterford R. D. 1 had halted for the traffic signal at the intersection and was hit in the rear by one driven by Edward Saron, 20, of Pittsburgh.

The woman driver suffered a whiplash injury to the neck and a passenger, Geraldine Latham, 35, of New Waterford R. D. suffered a sprain of the back. The mishap was timed at 8:35 p. m.

Saron was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A car driven by Edward Schultz, 18, of Rogers overturned on Route 7 about two miles north of Rogers yesterday morning at 6:30.

Officers said the car apparently skidded on the wet road. Damage was moderate, the patrol reported.

Chester, Newell Girl Scouts Plan Cookout Oct. 29

Plans for a cookout for Chester and Newell Girl Scout units Oct. 29 at the Chester City Park were discussed at a meeting of the Chester Girl Scout Neighborhood Association Monday night at the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Kenneth Brooks was introduced as new leader of Brownie Troop 82 of the Washington School. Mrs. Sherman Williams is leader and Mrs. George Gibson, assistant for a new intermediate troop in Lawrenceville.

A training event for Brownie leaders will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at the United Presbyterian Church with Wellsville leaders invited. An intermediate training event will be held Oct. 18.

Plans were also reviewed for the annual Juliette Lowe anniversary observance. Next meeting is Nov. 5.

Beaver Man In Trio Sentenced In Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Two men and a woman have been sentenced to prison terms here for robbing three businesses last month.

They are Wayne J. Virgin, 25, of Zelienople, Pa.; Charles Donald Pate, 22, Rochester, Pa.; Dixie Lee Hale, 23, Bucyrus. All pleaded guilty Oct. 2 in circuit court.

The men were given three terms of 6 months to 10 years. The woman got 6 months to a year on all three counts. The sentences will run concurrently.

The trio was captured Sept. 21 in a high speed chase that followed the robbery of two motels and a store near here.

The Greenwich Meridian passes through the European countries of England, France, and Spain.

Independent Uganda's Flag Raised To Tom-Toms Beat

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—The red, yellow and black flag of independent Uganda was raised before dawn Tuesday as tom-toms beat a steady rhythm and bonfires glowed in the hills.

More than 40,000 watched the new flag replace the Union Jack in a ceremony ending more than 60 years of British colonial rule of the East African territory. Women in the crowds massed in and around Kololo Stadium showed their approval with shrill cries.

While bands played predominantly military music, Negro and white musicians also had the gay independence crowd swinging to "When the Saints Go Marching In" and "Swanee," as Uganda became Africa's 33rd independent nation in the midnight ceremony.

The Duke and Duchess of Kent, representing Queen Elizabeth II, were presented with a harp, the traditional Buganda musical instrument, a walking stick and animal skins.

The stadium was hushed as the battalion of the Uganda unit of the Queen's African Rifles, which has served Britain in two wars, turned its colors over to the Uganda Rifles, the new nation's army. British officers who trained the smart fighting unit will remain with the army for the present.

Prime Minister Milton Obote, who heads the new federal government, was given a salute by the new Uganda army unit. He faces the delicate task of holding the five states and 11 administrative districts together. The British made a special effort to prepare the Ugandans for their new status. There are 500 to 600 college graduates in the country, although 70 per cent of the population of 6.5 million is illiterate.

City Nurse Wins Talent Event

A city girl won a talent contest and District 7, of which the City Hospital School of Nurses Training is a member, captured two awards at the annual convention of the Ohio Student Nurses Association Thursday through Sunday at the Sheraton - Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati.

The district, comprised of hospitals at East Liverpool, Martins Ferry and Steubenville, won the "top hat" contest with a design made by the delegates.

Barbara Schroeder of the local hospital won the talent contest with a humorous pantomime, "The Probie." She will represent Ohio at the contest slated for the national convention in the spring.

Christina Carson, also of the City Hospital, was acting district president.

Others who attended were Barbara Fitzsimmons of City Hospital, Henrietta Butler of the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville and Patricia Lewis of the Martins Ferry Hospital.

1577 PENNA. AVE. ... EAST END

Served 51 Years

Veteran Potter Retires

The second oldest employe in the point of service, David B. Williamson, 1038 St. Clair Ave., retired Tuesday after 51 years with the Homer Laughlin China Co.

A warehousman during his entire pottery career, Williamson was advanced to a gift by Ellis Wright on behalf of other warehousmen after punching out for the last time. The veteran potter began his employment with Laughlin's in 1911 at the East End plant. And with the exception of a few months at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. has spent his entire working career there.

Rotary Hears Fireman

Sharp Reply To Fire Call Calms Frantic Person

If you happen to phone the city fire department, shout for help, and hear a voice on the other end interrupt with "This telephone doesn't take pictures," don't hang up the receiver!

You probably have the correct number, after all.

It's only one method the department uses to help calm or startle an excited caller in order that the correct location of the fire can be determined quickly.

Housewives turn in 90 of every 100 fire alarms and many scream "hurry-up, hurry-up" and then give a wrong address or perhaps no address at all in their excitement, a city fireman told the Rotary Club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

John D. Bromby, 929 Montgomery Ave., explained that interrupting the caller's frantic shouts for aid with a ridiculous remark, or using harsh tones, sometimes helps to restore emotions.

Bromby appeared with Assistant Fire Chief David O. Anderson, 1012 Avondale St., to make a joint appeal for support of the one-mail firemen's levy up for renewal in the Nov. 6 general election.

A veteran of more than 30 years, Bromby said phone calls occasionally provide humor in the life of a fireman whose jobs more often place them close to tragedy.

An example was when a woman phoned for help and gave firemen the address of her former home, where she had apparently lived many years, instead of her newer address. Firemen rushed to the scene and found nothing amiss. "Then the curbstone coaches say we don't know what we are doing," Bromby laughed.

Firemen are subjected to plenty of heckling from the public about their "soft jobs" but many have learned to build a shield against the kidding, Bromby said. "The public appears to be very irritated when the fireman are not out somewhere fighting a fire," he added.

Appealing for support of the levy, that has been in effect since 1927 and renewed every five years, since, Anderson declared "the levy is for public benefit, but we get the job of selling it."

He explained that East Liverpool is designated as a "Class 6" city in terms of determining insurance rates, but could be

Williamson recalled that when he started as a journeymen warehousman he drew $1.70 a day, working nine hours a day and a "short" eight-hour shift on Saturdays. "It was pretty good money at the time," he commented.

After about six months, Williamson was advanced to $2 daily and then was placed in charge of the decorated ware-house at $2.25 a day.

Married for 34 years, he resides with his wife in a new brick home on St. Clair Ave. built by his only son, Ross Williamson, a former Review printer now residing near San Diego, Calif.

16 Astronauts Have Tickets

 Moon Flight Oversold;
Only 3 Seats Available

By JOHN BARBOUR
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixteen American astronauts have tickets for that first trip to the moon. But the flight is sadly oversold. There are only three seats available.

Only two of these will land on the moon. One astronaut will have to stay with the main spaceship, parked in orbit around the moon.

It will be a tricky effort from the moment the 300-foot Saturn rocket blasts off from earth to that second of glory when a man-made space cab comes to rest on the lunar surface.

We are going, President Kennedy said, on "an untried mission to an unknown celestial body."

The trip will be made step by step, the first cautious ones already taken. Three Americans have orbited the earth for a total of 18 hours. Sometime early next year, likely, at least one astronaut, maybe more will go into earth orbit for a full day.

After that the space program will take its first major step—to Gemini spacecraft. The Gemini, about twice as big as the Mercury spacecrafts, will carry two men into orbit around the earth, after early test flights.

It will be able to stay in orbit for up to two weeks, with enough oxygen and electrical power. Or, for shorter periods, astronauts can train themselves to maneuver in space, and to find and dock with another orbiting spacecraft.

This training will lay groundwork for the Apollo spaceship flights to the moon.

Apollo spacecraft next will make flights around the earth, then a flight once around the moon and back to earth.

Those two men will try to touch down on the moon. One at a time, they will explore on foot the lunar surface. Back in their space cab, in communication with the earth and their mothership, they will hold their own countdown, and fire the rockets that will put them on an orbital intercept course with the mothership.

The space cab will dock with the Apollo mothership and the two lunar pioneers will rejoin the third crew member. Then, at a precise moment during their whirling course around the moon, the three astronauts will fire off rockets to tear them loose from their lunar orbit and send them hurtling toward the earth.

Both countdowns—the one on the moon, and the one in lunar orbit—must be exactly timed. The relative positions of the earth, moon and spacecraft are fed into computers in the spacecraft, and the men will check the components of their rockets by electronic means.

These in-space countdowns are the most critical points in the trip.

That, in brief outline, is the scheme. The aim is to do it in this decade. The hope is to do it by 1967.

The Cherokee District Boy Scout Roundtable will be held tonight at 7:30 at the YMCA. Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner, will preside. Some 100 are expected.

Den mothers will view a display of handicraft items furnished by various packs. Mrs. Mary Jones is in charge. Bill Rayburn will be in charge of the scouter session and Al Cronin of Pack 25 will have the exhibing session.

A meeting will be held Saturday at 5:30 p. m. to complete the signing of necessary applications. Boys between 11 and 14 who are interested may contact Andrews, Meadows or Bemis.

Fifteen attended a meeting of the district committee Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home. Tom Snow, district chairman, presided.

Frank Rossi, vice chairman, introduced Explorer Jack Amato of Post 66 of Wellsville and Fred Mathews of Post 59 of Hillcrest. They spoke on specializing in emergency service and Civil Defense in their packs.

Rossi reported an Explorer rifle shoot will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the Beaver Kettle Archery Club on Route 179 at Fredericktown. Anyone needing transportation may contact Bill Rayburn, Rossi, Robert Gray or Bill Reese. All registered Explorers are invited.

Rossi said the district Explorer Cabinet will meet next Wednesday at the cabin of Troop 59 at the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church. Officers for the 1963 term will be nominated.

Snow reported on new units being formed, including troops at Westgate School, Wellsville First Christian Church and a cub pack at Lawrenceville.

He asked the committee to visit the new units and aid them with any problems. Snow also reported the district has continued to gain in Exploring.

Don Theiss, training chairman, reported on the University of Scouting scheduled Nov. 18. He asked for help and also for the commissioner session of the unit.

Grimm told police he was headed down the road on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." toward Mulberry St. when his brakes failed, causing him to hit the parked truck.

Popprik had parked the truck in a traffic lane to make a delivery, officers said. Investigation showed the left rear wheel cylinder had failed on the car, owned by Charles W. Grimm of 14th St., Wellsville, officers reported.

There was extensive damage to the right front fender, grill and wheel of the auto, but the truck had only moderate damage to the rear, police said. The truck was parked about 30 feet west of Mulberry St. when the crash failed, causing him to hit the parked truck.

The crash was timed at 10:01 a.m. A minor mishap downtown at 7:32 p. m. Tuesday involved a 1957 sedan driven by John Lyons, 41, of 329 Jackson St. and a 1962 station wagon operated by Daniel J. Simmons of Rogers R. D. 1, officers said.

Lyons told police he halted on Washington St. about 30 feet south of Diamond Alley and the left front fender of his car was hit by the backing Simmons vehicle. Simmons said he was backing to get out of the way of another auto maneuvering into a parking place. His vehicle was undamaged, officers said.

Board Of Trustees Meets

Chamber Plans Reviewed For Freeway Dedication

Plans for a dedication program Oct. 17 marking the opening of the new California Hollow-West End Freeway were reviewed Tuesday afternoon by the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce.

Details of the program were discussed by Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the Chamber highway committee and immediate past president of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10:30 a. m. will mark the formal opening of the four-lane road. It will be followed by a luncheon and program at the Travelers Hotel. East Liverpool is the southern terminus of the road, which eventually will link river ports with Lake Erie at Ashtabula.

The board voted to endorse the 1-mill firemen's levy and two school levies—a 3-mill renewal and a new 2-mill proposition—which will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot.

The board was advised of plans for an Industry Appreciation Week Oct. 29-Nov. 3. Designed to emphasize the importance of industry in the immediate area, the observance will be highlighted by a "Salute to Industry" program at the Chamber's annual fall membership meeting Oct. 30 at the Country Club.

Alvin T. Babb, president, reported on a meeting of community representatives in the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which he attended Oct. 2 at Steubenville. The group voted to continue the UOVDC on a limited basis while pushing efforts to engage a new executive director.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, reported on plans for a Chamber-sponsored sales and customer relations clinic scheduled the evenings of Nov. 5 and 12 at the Travelers Hotel.

Babb advised the board that he and Chandler called on officers of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. in early September to offer the services of the Chamber in attempting to prevent closing of the plant. Since that time, the Chamber has been attempting to contact other firms which might be interested in purchasing the plant, he said.

Don Eckert presented a report on recent activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association. He explained the merchants' plan for participation in the Industry Appreciation Week and announced arrangements for the annual community Christmas program.

He also related details of a proposed new street lighting system in the shopping district, financed by owners of business property.

Harry Martin reported on a Chamber leaders' institute which he and five others attended Sept. 25 at Youngstown.

A report also was given on the current observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

Spring Fete Set By Beaver Local Boosters Group

Plans for a spring festival were outlined by George Dunn at a meeting of the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night at the high school.

Dunn will be chairman and Steve Barborak, president, will be co-chairman of the event to be held June 3-8. Mrs. Ed Alius will be in charge of the kitchen, and John Myler will be electrician.

Lee Myers, membership chairman, said the current drive has obtained 207 members, and tickets are available at various area stores, businesses and from committee members.

A film of the Beaver Local-Leetonia football game was screened and described by Jack O'Rourke, coach. George Wilkinson gave prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Everett Hopel.

Next meeting is Oct. 23.

Democrat Group Hears Candidate

Lawrence Stacey, candidate for state representative, and County Commissioner Frank Wilson, who is seeking re-election, were guest speakers when the Women's Democratic Club met Monday night at party headquarters on E. 6th St.

Plans were made for a public card party Oct. 30 at the headquarters. Tickets may be obtained from members.

The club made plans to attend a luncheon Oct. 16 at the Hotel Wayne L. Hays addresses a group on completion of a political science school.

It also will attend the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Oct. 20 at Beaver Local High School.

Wellsville And Akron Men Taken To Prison

Sheriff deputies took Boadie Price, 26, of Akron and William E. Wright, 25, of Wellsville R.D. 1 to the Ohio State Penitentiary today to begin serving sentences imposed by Common Pleas Court.

Price was sentenced to 1-20 years for auto larceny and Wright to 1-15 years for burglary of the Guy Morrel home at Lisbon.

Lloyd Wayne Gearin, 23, of Minerva was taken to the Lima State Hospital for 60 days observation and report. He pleaded guilty to statutory rape and requested probation.

Wellsville Kiwanians Enroll 2 Members

Two new members were welcomed at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at the Hotel Wilk.

They are Paul Vogel and Jack Vogel. Richard Grills, president, conducted business.

The Rev. William Hewitt and Atty. William Bush, delegates, gave a report on the Ohio District convention. Eighteen were present.

Offices Close On Columbus Day Friday

Several city, county and state offices and some financial institutions will be closed Friday in observance of Columbus Day.

Others, however, will skip the legal holiday.

City Hall will be closed and no fees will be required in parking meters, as it is a legal holiday.

The Columbiana County Court-house at Lisbon will be closed Friday and also Saturday morning, by vote of the officeholders, giving employees a three-day vacation.

The long weekend applies to the marriage license and car title departments, usually busiest on Saturday mornings.

Also closing will be the Court-house at New Cumberland, Ohio State Employment Service, Ohio

State Liquor Stores in East Liverpool, and Wellsville, the Chester liquor store, the Pottery Bank & Trust Co., First National Bank, and the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association and Perpetual Savings & Loan Co., both of Wellsville.

The Wellsville relief office will be closed but all other City Hall offices will operate as usual.

Grid Films Screened At Boosters Meeting

Films of the Salineville - Stanton Local football game were screened at a meeting of the Southern Local Area Boosters Club Tuesday night at Salineville High School. About 30 attended.

Movies of the Crestview - Salineville game will be screened at a meeting Monday night at 8 at the high school.

There are almost three times as many widows as widowers in the United States.

Wellsville Truck Driver Fined $25

A Wellsville trucker was fined $25 and costs Monday by County Judge Herbert E. Arfman in East Palestine on a charge of failing to have mud flaps on his truck.

Judge Arfman told William H. Nixon of R. D. 1 he will suspend $10 of the fine provided Nixon attends the next safety traffic film on Oct. 25.

Nixon was cited Monday by the State Highway Patrol after being warned previously to install the mud flaps.

Namon Carter of Youngstown was fined $125 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Arfman on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Judge Arfman said he will suspend $25 of the fine provided Carter sees the traffic film. The Youngstown was arrested on Route 7 near Rogers.

3 Drivers Fined $105 In Hearings At Lisbon

LISBON — Three motorists were fined a total of $105 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after being cited by the State Highway Patrol.

James E. Kehl, 19, of Salineville R.D. paid $25 for operating a commercial vehicle without a chauffeur's license and $5 for failing to stop within assured clear distance.

Robert W. Llewellyn, 18, of Toronto was fined $50 for driving without a permit and John A. Gaudio, 41, of Steubenville $25 for reckless operation.

Class Names Officers

SALINEVILLE — Georgianna Brown has been elected president of the seventh grade at Salineville Junior High School. Diane Adams is vice president; Bonnie Tolson, secretary, and Gayle Brammer, treasurer.

New Hancock Ruritan Club To Hold Banquet

A "Charter Night" banquet for a new Ruritan Club in Hancock County will be held Oct. 29 at 7:30 in the Pughtown Presbyterian Church.

The club will be comprised chiefly of members of the County Agricultural Club.

William Oyster Jr. is serving as temporary secretary.

Rural Store Entered

LISBON — Bud Thomas told the sheriff's office his store and gas station on Route 62 at Westville was entered and eight new tires taken early today. He said a window was broken in the garage for entry.

Sheriff Catches 3 Delaware Boys With Stolen Auto

Three Wilmington (Del.) boys—one 16 and the others 14—who drove a stolen car all the way from their hometown, were held in the Columbiana County Jail detention room overnight after they were apprehended by Sheriff Russell VanFossan near West Point Tuesday.

Sheriff deputies and Ohio Highway Patrol officers were called to the Beaver Local High School area after the three youths were seen abandoning a large white Cadillac and running down over the hill about 1:45.

Previously, the patrol had been notified by Jay Simonik, manager of the Super-30 Drive-In Theater that three youths in the car had come out of the theater and when car had sped away.

The sheriff spotted the trio along Route 30 near the intersection with Route 45 and took them into custody. The auto had been stolen from Louis Skult Jr. of Wilmington. The younger boys were released to their parents, while the older was being held today at Lisbon.

Auxiliary Buys Firemen Items At Highlandtown

The Highlandtown Women's Corps has purchased two blankets for the emergency car of the volunteer fire department, it was announced at a meeting of the auxiliary group Tuesday night. Plans were approved to raise funds for the Columbiana County Mental Health clinic.

The corps will sponsor a record hop at the fire hall Friday night from 7:30 to 10.

Twenty have been enrolled for the six-week series of classes in Red Cross training starting Tuesday night at 7 in the Carnegie library in Wellsville.

Mrs. Hugh Talbott, president, presided. Members are to bring two items to the next two meetings to fill a basket for a needy family at Christmas.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Barbara Mills and Mrs. Linda Talbott. Next meeting is Nov. 13 and lunch committee members are Mrs. Verla Culp and Mrs. Fannie Grodhous.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: Where did the Pilgrims land?

ANSWER: People often think there is disagreement as to where the Pilgrims first landed in America, but this is not so. The Pilgrims left an exact account, and this is the basis of the map our artist has made. The Mayflower left England September 16, 1620. Finding dangerous shoals ahead, she steered north and sighted Cape Cod, which had been named by Gosnold in 1602. At (1) she followed the inward curve of the Cape, circling around until she came to the great harbor now called Provincetown. Here, on November 21, 1620, she anchored; and (2) at about the spot marked by the cross, the weary Pilgrims landed and gave thanks to God. The famous Mayflower Compact was drawn up in this harbor. But the country looked too sandy for a permanent settlement, and so a group of the men took the ship's boat and started off to explore. At 3, they landed and had the first encounter with the Indians (spot marked by cross.) Pushing on, they followed the curving shore until they came to the harbor we know of as Plymouth. This place had good water and soil. They returned to the Mayflower and the ship set sail for Plymouth. On December 28 they landed on Plymouth Rock. Nearby, they began their permanent settlement.

FOR YOU TO DO: The Mayflower Compact was one of the first written constitutions in history. Find the text and study it. You will realize that this great document is at the heart of the American idea.

Marilyn Herpich of Litchfield, Conn., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1962. There are 82 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this day in 1935, the Greek Parliament restored the monarchy constitution. Several weeks later George II was returned to the throne by popular vote.

On this date:
In 1633, the English and American Puritan minister, John Cotton, was appointed teacher of the First Church of Boston.
In 1775, Sir William Howe became commander-in-chief of the British army in America.

In 1845, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was opened.
In 1933, an antiwar treaty was signed at Rio de Janeiro by Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, Uruguay and Mexico.
Today's birthday:
Actress Helen Hayes is 62.

Thought for today:
Only the actions of the just smell sweet and blossom in their dust--James Shirley.

Band Parents At Wellsville Fill Vacancy

A new president was selected and a resolution adopted backing the new 5-mill operating school levy at a meeting of the Wellsville Band Parents Monday night at the Daw Junior High School. The group also acted on the resignations of two other officers. Wayne Rose of Lincoln Ave., former Jaycee president, was named president to succeed Patsy Frontone who resigned earlier. Mrs. Genevieve Heaton, treasurer, served as chairman. The resolution on the levy declares it is necessary to further the education of the children and points out the additional money is needed for operating expenses. The organization urged that the entire school district adopt the levy at the Nov. 6 election. William Menough, high school principal, spoke on the need of the levy. Mrs. Robert Tice was named secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Dolly Harding who also had resigned earlier. Mrs. Betty Glass, vice president, also has resigned. Her successor will be selected by the executive board. An amendment was made to the bylaws so that the treasurer is eligible to sign all checks without the signature of the president. The purchase of band jackets was discussed. Each parent will pay for the jackets selected. The group also discussed purchasing raincoats for the band. The uniform committee will determine the type and price. An awards dinner was set for Dec. 1. A dance will follow at the Beacom Memorial gym. Stan Scott, Steubenville disc jockey, will entertain the students. The awards will be made by Ted Koenig, band director. He has resigned to accept another position but he will return for the dinner. The largest of all American hares is the husky Arctic hare. Its average length is 24 inches, and it may reach a weight of 12 pounds. In summer, the Arctic hare is brownish-gray, but in winter it is all white, except for black-tipped ears.

Rogers Gets New Fire Agreement With Volunteers

ROGERS — A contract for providing fire protection was approved by Council with the village volunteer fire department at a special meeting Monday night. The contract will be for a three month period — until Jan. 1. Previously the fire protection contract was with the Negley department. Firemen last night reported they have a mutual aid agreement with other communities. Council also approved a lease arrangement of the community building with the firemen, on condition the stage area be remodeled, a portable stage provided and the office area remodeled later. Firemen have not yet signed the contract for the leasing of the hall in which the fire truck and equipment and village truck would be housed. Council also approved joining the county Civil Defense organization after a talk by Al Rutecki of Lisbon, county CD director, who reported that of the 13 communities in the county, only three have not yet joined.

Saturn's Launching Pad Is Completed

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Frank Murphy and Associates, Bartow steel fabricating firm, announced it has completed a launching pad for the Saturn rocket, this nation's largest. The pad awaits inspection and transportation piecemeal to Cape Canaveral. The firm has been working since June on a $750,000 contract to build the pad and a service tower. The tower already has been delivered. The company said two million pounds of steel went into the project.
